THE PUBLIC LANDS.

WASHINGTON, June 11.—Returns just received by the General Land Office from the local office at Sioux City, Iowa, show the disposal of 105,868 acres of the public domain during the past month. The greater portion of the land was sold for cash and the remainder taken for actual residence and cultivation under the homestead laws, and located with agricultural college scrip and military bounty land warrants.

GOV. GEARY LIKELY TO SUCCEED BORIE.

The story prevailing here regarding Gov. Geary, of Pennsylvania, it is said, has this extent, no more: If he is renominated for Governor he will, of course, run; but if he is not, as the indications now appear to be against him, he is to have a place in the Cabinet from Pennsylvania in place of Mr. Borie, who, it is said, is desirous of retiring on account of ill health.

GEORGIA.

Sensation dispatches in Washington papers of additional troubles in Georgia are not confirmed. The Administration has decided not to do anything more than is being done towards the preservation of peace in Georgia. Gen. Terry, who is in command, has been instructed to yield all possible assistance to the civil authorities, and is doing so.

MISSISSIPPI.

Letters from Mississippi received here state that the conservative Republicans in that State are entering upon a campaign upon the universal suffrage and universal amnesty platform, and are urging the President to name August as the time for a vote on the constitution.

The platform, the main principles of the Republican party are indorsed.

The adoption of the constitution is recommended.

A resolution recommending the enfranchisement of the whites was objected to by Mr. Butler, but was finally adopted.

On Wednesday the convention nominated Mr. Hovey for State Treasurer, but he declined, and Mr. Price, of Austin, was nominated.

A State central committee was appointed, and also a committee of one from each judicial district to collect funds to carry on the canvass.

The convention then adjourned sine die.

A large number of tourists and pleasure seekers are now arriving daily, going to the mountains or to the Pacific coast.

The new Indian Superintendent has been visiting the various agencies and making changes to improve the condition of the Indians and protect the Government against fraud.

Indian depredations are reported south of the Platte, below Kearney, but nothing serious.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 11.—Official accounts of military operations in Southern Arizona, published during the past three months, give forty warriors killed; a number of their families now captives; immense quantities of Indian supplies, stock, &c., captured or destroyed.

In relinquishing command of the troops south of the river Gila, General Diven expressed his gratification at the integrity, energy, and perseverance displayed by the officers and men in the recent campaign against the Apaches, and the results obtained by such a small force.

Mr. David Thayer, of Boston, was chosen President, and Dr. Leedham, of Chicago, Secretary. The next meeting will be held in Chicago on the 7th of June next.

At Riverside Park the first race, for $800, was won by Myron Perry; best time, 2:31½. The second race, for $400, was won by Black Hawk; time, 2:35½.

CUBA.

Hostility Between Officials and Volunteers—Rumors.

WASHINGTON, June 11.—Recent advices from Cuba state that the difficulty between the Spanish officials and organized volunteers is on the increase, and the latter have now almost entire control of the government of the island. Such is their power that they forced the acting Captain-General to countermand the requisition of Dulce on the home government for a reinforcement of 5,000 regular troops.

HAVANA, June 11.—The reports that an expedition of filibusters had landed at Aquadores, near Santiago, and another expedition was on the south side of the Island waiting to land, are unconfirmed.

The rumor that the war steamer Louisa had sunk two vessels bringing filibusters to aid the revolutionists is also unconfirmed.

The journals and private letters announce that many of the insurgents are surrendering.

Affairs remained tranquil in the vicinity of Guayamo and Manzanillo.

CHICAGO.

INDIANAPOLIS.

Prosecutions for Revenue Frauds—Partisan Legislation—The Specific Appropriations—Purdue University—Democratic Nominations.

[Special Dispatch to the Courier-Journal.]

FRAUDS ON THE REVENUE.

INDIANAPOLIS, June 11.—In the United States District Court to-day Andrew J. Leroy, of Harrison county, was convicted of illicit distilling. The penalty imposed was a fine of eighty dollars and two days' imprisonment. The grand jury has found a large number of bills for illicit distillation and other infractions of the revenue laws.

THE STATE APPROPRIATIONS.

Judge Blair, of the Common Pleas Court, to-day granted the application for a mandamus against the State Auditor, enforcing the payment of the specific appropriation bill. The case was submitted without any argument some days ago, and the Judge sustained the motion upon Morton's theory of the law of quorums. The case was appealed to the Supreme Court, before whom all the questions involved will be elaborately argued. Judge Blair is Radical, and the Supreme Court is intensely Radical, so that it is probable that the partisan decision of the lower court will be sustained.

PURDUE UNIVERSITY.

The location of the Purdue University will be deferred until fall on account of the necessary absence of a portion of the trustees.

THE DEMOCRACY OF DEARBORN.

Notwithstanding the passage of the election laws that postpone all elections until October, 1870, the Democracy of Dearborn county have nominated candidates for the county offices that expire next fall, and will hold an election at the usual time.

A Government vessel, which was towing up the river Tebicuary a ship charged with provisions for the army, was boarded by the Paraguayans, who killed all the crew and took possession of the cargo of the two vessels.

The allied army was still in Lucque.

NEGRO TESTIMONY.

Important Action and Correspondence Concerning it.

[From the Danville (Ky.) Advocate, 11th.]

At a meeting of the Democratic County Committee of Boyle county, held in Danville, June 1, 1869, present, M. J. Durham, Chairman, C. E. Bowman, T. J. Dillehay, R. D. Logan, F. G. Fox, J. B. McFerran, and J. J. Jones—the following resolutions were passed:

Resolved, That as the Democratic party is divided upon the question of the propriety and expediency of passing a law allowing negroes to testify in our State courts, this question is not and cannot be made a test of party fealty.

2. That the chairman of this committee is requested to ascertain of Col. R. J. Breckinridge, the nominee of the party in this district for the Senate, whether, if elected, he will, in good faith, carry out the will of the Democratic party in reference to the passage of a law allowing negroes to testify in our State courts, without regard to his private opinions on said subject.

3. If Col. Breckinridge responds affirmatively to this proposition, then the chairman of this committee is authorized to confer with the Committees in the other counties in the District, with a view to having a poll opened at the election to ascertain the will of the party on this question.

Attest, M. J. DURHAM, Chairman.

The following is the correspondence between the chairman and Col. Breckinridge:

DANVILLE, KY., June 1, 1869.

Col. R. J. Breckinridge:

DEAR SIR—At a meeting of the Democratic Central County Committee of Boyle, this day held in Danville, among others the following resolution was passed:

"That the chairman of this committee is authorized to ascertain of Col. R. J. Breckinridge, the nominee of the party for the Senate in this district, by letter, whether, if elected, he will carry out in good faith the will of the Democratic party in reference to the passage of a law allowing negroes to testify in our State courts, without regard to his private opinions on said subject."

In accordance with said resolution, I transmit you a copy, and request of you an early reply upon the question involved and indicated in said resolution.

Yours truly, M. J. DURHAM,
Chairman County Committee.

LINCOLN COUNTY, June 6, 1869.

Judge M. J. Durham, Chairman of D. C., of Boyle:

SIR: Your letter, bearing date June 1st, was handed me this forenoon, and also a copy of the resolutions passed by the committee of which you are chairman.

The Democratic party has always recognized the right of the people to instruct those whom they have elevated to office. I have always been a Democrat, and have always held and believed in the right of instruction. I have, therefore, no hesitation in saying that, if I am elected to the Senate, I will obey the will of those who elect me—so long as I am their representative. I am more than willing that a poll shall be opened, as suggested in the resolution communicated, and the sense of the Democratic party taken on the proposition of passing a law to allow negroes to testify in our courts.

The first of the series of resolutions passed by your committee expresses, in my opinion, the exact position held by the Democratic party on the question of negro testimony—"that it is not and cannot be made a test of party fealty." Yours, &c.,
ROBT. J. BRECKINRIDGE.

A REMINISCENCE.

An Olden Time Tilt between Andy Johnson and Gus Henry.

[Knoxville Press and Herald.]

The Gubernatorial contest of '53 was a most hotly contested one. The Whigs, who had just carried the State for Scott, made strenuous efforts to retain their supremacy. The Democrats, on the other hand, were equally determined that Tennessee should take her place in the party that had so recently swept the nation in triumph. The champions, Henry and Johnson, manifested no less zeal than their respective adherents, and many were the thrusts and stunning blows they exchanged "upon the stump." Their canvass closed in Knoxville. An immense crowd was present, and the excitement ran high, the confidence of the two parties differing little in degree. Andrew Johnson concluded the discussion. In closing he spoke about in this wise:

"Fellow-citizens, it was with much reluctance and trepidation that I entered this canvass which is now brought to a close. I say trepidation, because the enemy having counted over the names of all their heroes and men of prowess, selected my honorable competitor as the greatest of them all, and placed their banner in his hands. He was brought forth with a flourish of trumpets and heralded to the world as the 'Eagle Orator.' A man of my pretensions might well have been appalled, and one less timid than myself might, without cowardice, have shrank from such an encounter. But, fellow-citizens, I have been with this 'Eagle Orator' throughout this contest. I have met him upon every stump from Johnson to Shelby, and now when I look upon him (turning to Mr. Henry), I see no flesh upon his beak and no blood upon his talons." The outburst of applause from the Democrats, who were largely in the minority, was, of course, tremendous, but, quick as thought, Mr. Henry sprang to his feet, with lightning in his eye, and looking at least a foot taller than ever before, as his voice rang out like a trumpet: 'Yes, fellow-citizens, the eagle is a proud bird and never deigns to prey upon a putrid carcass." If the shouts of the Democrats had been increased seven fold they could not have been heard above the Whig thunder at that moment. To this day the Whigs who were present will insist that in that little encounter "Our Gus" got Andy badly. Andy could well afford it, however, for he got "Our Gus" badly at the ballot-box.

We have no doubt Mr. Henry, who is one of nature's noblemen, was sincere in saying that he had never met Mr. Johnson "with greater pleasure before;" for his meetings theretofore, while always honorable, were not of a kind, in political parlance, denominated "pleasant."

☞ The first locomotive used upon a railroad in the United States was imported from England in the year 1829. It was built by Foster, Rastrick & Co., of Stourbridge, and was run upon the railroad of the Delaware and Hudson Canal Company, from the mines of Honesdale, Pa., to the canal landing, in the summer of 1829. There were several railroads in this country in operation with the use of locomotives before the Philadelphia and Germantown railroad was built. Upon the latter the cars were for some time drawn by horses after it was opened.

MONETARY.

NEW YORK, June 11.—Money became easier as the day progressed, and it soon became evident that the bear party had abandoned their game, and the final rate was 7 per cent. in coin on call.

Gold was buoyed up by the advance in sterling exchange and the continued rumors of political troubles in France. It is generally conceded that our export of gold cannot be long delayed unless Mr. Boutwell retires the three per cent. certificates.

GOVERNMENT BONDS

were lower under the decline abroad, but the decline was nearly nominal, as very few of them are coming on the market.

OTHER BONDS.

State bonds were irregular, Missouri higher, and Tennessee steady, but North Carolina and Virginia still depressed. Railway bonds were all lower, but closed firm.

RAILWAY SHARES

opened firmer, and, on the break in the money market being known, the following prices were made: New York Central, 190; Northwestern, common, 89⅞@90⅛; Northwestern, preferred, 100⅛; Michigan Southern, 106⅝@107; Rock Island, 121; Cleveland and Pittsburg, 96¾; Reading, 96⅞; and Pacific Mail, 84⅞@85. But these advanced prices were not fully sustained and the close was rather dull. New Jersey Central and Hannibal and St. Joseph were noticeably active on the first call, the latter having further declined.

The Mariposa stocks show an improvement.

Express shares quiet but firm.

FIRE PATROL.

The New York Board of Fire Underwriters have resolved to continue the fire patrol heretofore maintained by them.

MYSTERIOUS DISAPPEARANCES.

The great number of mysterious disappearances excite comment. There are now on file in the office of the Superintendent of Police descriptions of twenty-four persons who have mysteriously disappeared in this city during the past two weeks. Many of them are persons of known respectability, and a few of wealth and high social standing. The body of one of them, Frank P. Woodall, an insurance clerk, was found floating in the bay this afternoon.

WAR TIMES.

Military Arrests and Excitement.

[Correspondence of the Augusta (Ga.) Chronicle.]

WARRENTON, GA., June 8, 1869.

Chap Norris, the notorious scalawag Sheriff of this county, who ran away from here several months since when no man was pursuing, returned yesterday with a body guard of one hundred and twenty-five of Uncle Sam's soldiers, which, in addition to the force already here, gives us a garrison of nearly three hundred. Norris brought orders to the commanding officer from General Terry to recognize him as sheriff of the county, and to render him all the assistance he needed, which means to have every man arrested whom Norris disliked. This miserable creature commenced his work of infamy at once, which did not surprise any one who knew his character, by making arrests of personal enemies—men who had despised him for his meanness and rascality. The first arrest made by the military, at the instance of Norris, was that of John Raley, who was appointed temporary Sheriff by the Ordinary to fill the place of Norris. The following citizens were afterward arrested: E. E. Cody, Ed. Cody, Zip Cody, H. Martin and A. L. Hartley, editor of the Clipper, all of whom are respected and law-abiding citizens. They are now in jail with a heavy guard of soldiers around it. It is suspected that Norris will have other arrests made. The excitement is very great, and our people are excited and indignant. There is no telling what the result may be if this thing is suffered to go on. Counsel our people to be patient and forbearing under their wrongs. Violence and resistance are to be avoided, but God forbid that our people should be exasperated to desperation. The worst consequences might ensue. W.

THE KENTUCKY UNIVERSITY.

Annual Exercises of the Colleges—Six Hundred and Fifty Students Present.

[From the Correspondence Cincinnati Commercial, 10th.]

LEXINGTON, KY., June 8, 1869.

This is the busy and eventful week at the Kentucky University. Curious and critical eyes are scrutinizing the labors of six hundred and fifty matriculates for a year, and a sort of fine frenzy rages throughout the historic halls of old Transylvania, whence issued some of the grandest minds of the present day. Ambitious to win a name in the ranks of science, art or literature, this numerous array of students toil with becoming industry and application, but it is not reserved for all to succeed. Few only can reach the topmost round, and live to shout "Excelsior!"

The Kentucky University is of recent origin, and, indeed, has hardly been able to show any results from its present organization. The institution is young, although the elements of its existence are as old as the State. In 1855, Mr. John B. Bowman, a plain country gentleman, engaged at farming in Mercer county, Ky., conceived the idea of founding in his State a university for the people, one that should be accessible to poor young men, and the central idea of which was to give a modern American Christian education, with a high grade of scholarship, especially in its ministerial, normal, scientific and agricultural departments. He proposed to raise an endowment fund of half a million dollars, and in order to do so adopted this plan: The notes for money subscribed were made payable in easy installments, and, when collected, the principal was safely invested. A certificate of stock was issued to each subscriber, with coupons attached, bearing value equal to one year's tuition, and made transferable. The coupons were redeemable in tuition only, so that the stock, without interest, would be gradually refunded to the subscriber. Thus while the capital subscribed was refunded in the form of tuition, it remained, in the form of cash, as the permanent endowment, the interest of which would pay the expenses of the institution. In the course of a few years the coupons would all be redeemed, and the endowment and tuition funds would be free and unincumbered. Mr. Bowman proposed to found the university on the ruins of Bacon college, and in the winter of 1856 addressed himself to the work. In a few months he raised among the farmers of central Kentucky $200,000, mainly in notes of $500 and $1,000, and called a meeting of the donors in Harrodsburg in May, 1857, and it was there and then agreed to divest the university of all local character and have it recognized as the property of the people at large. In February, 1858, it was chartered by the Legislature. In September, 1859, the College of Arts was opened under the Presidency of R. Milligan. The necessity for a college site now became apparent. Harrodsburg offered Bacon College but it was accidentally destroyed by fire about that time, and old Transylvania was finally secured. In January, 1865, the offer of Congress of 330,000 acres of land for the establishment of an agricultural college, was taken by the State, and at that juncture Mr. Bowman stepped forward and proposed to consolidate into one great institution the University at Harrodsburg, the Transylvania University and the Agricultural College, and to locate the whole at Lexington. Also, to provide an experimental farm and all the requisite buildings, and to give gratuitous instruction to a hundred pupils, to be selected by the State, and furthermore guaranteed that the Board of Curators should carry out the intent of the act of Congress in the matter of the Agricultural College. A bill to enable Mr. Bowman to carry out this plan was immediately passed by the Legislature, and the Kentucky University was removed to Lexington. The Transylvania University was formally transferred to the Board of Curators, and the State Agricultural College was made part of the university. The capital of the institution now exceeded half a million dollars, but Mr. Bowman was under obligations to raise a hundred thousand more for the experimental farm, and he did so by the assistance of the citizens of Lexington, and at their annual meeting in June, 1865, the Curators formally ratified his action and ordered the Kentucky University to be opened in October, 1865.

In 1866 Mr. Bowman purchased for the permanent site of the Kentucky University the beautiful estate of Henry Clay (Ashland), which, with the adjoining estate of "Woodlands," extending into the city of Lexington, gives the institution an area of four hundred and thirty-three acres of land, beautifully situated, and fertile as the famous bluegrass region. Ashland is now the seat of the Agricultural and Mechanical College.

GOVERNMENT.

The government of the University is vested in the Board of Curators, which consists of not less than thirty members, representing the donors.

The delegated and representative powers of the corporation are vested in the Regent and Executive Committee.

The immediate government of the students is committed to the respective faculties.

The Board of Visitors of the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Kentucky consists of six members, appointed by the Governor of the State, with the advice and consent of the Senate, and whose powers and duties are prescribed by the act of the General Assembly.

GENERAL PLAN.

There are six colleges in the University, viz: The College of Science, Literature and Arts; the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Kentucky; the College of the Bible; the Normal College; the College of Law; the College of Medicine.

The course of study and instruction in each college is full and complete, yet the first four are so associated that a student regularly matriculated in any one may have the benefit of all without extra charge for tuition. A training in military tactics is embraced in the course of the Agricultural and Mechanical College. It would require more space than I can claim in your columns to give the lists of officers and professors, but I may say that they are nearly all members and ministers in the Christian Church. R. M. Bishop, Esq., of your city, is chairman of the Board of Curators, and, very properly, John B. Bowman is Regent of the University.

The matriculates, in the respective colleges, are as follows:

College of Arts	163
Agricultural and Mechanical College	220
College of the Bible	71
College of Law	26
Commercial College	58
Academy	112
Total	650

The representation by States is as follows: Kentucky, 495; Tennessee, 25; Indiana, 10; Arkansas, 10; Illinois, 14; Ohio, 7; Missouri, 28; Alabama, 8; Louisiana, 5; North Carolina, 4; Iowa, 1; Mississippi, 10; California, 1; Virginia, 3; West Virginia, 1; New York, 4; Georgia, 12; Nesbraska, 1; Massachusetts, 2; Texas, 10.

The actual cash endowment now amounts to over $400,000, and its real estate to about $250,000.

Into this new field of labor, almost the entire energy and enterprise of the Christian Church is poured, and those who do not know the character of the men composing it, are but little informed upon the Protestantism of America.

HOME AGAIN.

George Peabody Returns to his Native Land.

[From the New York Times 9.]

Mr. George Peabody has returned home by the Scotia, if not with the final intention of spending the remainder of his days in his native land, yet with no strong desire to return to England. He has acquired a liking for that country, as is only natural in one who amassed a large fortune there, and who has made more friends than any American of his time. Mr. Peabody did not quit England because he had become weary of it. But when health declines, and age presses with constantly accumulating stress upon the spirits, the desire to be amid the scenes and with the friends of early years is very difficult to resist. In Mr. Peabody's case there is no motive for resisting it. His active business career in England closed some time ago. His self-appointed work there is done. Those of our readers who remember the first of two or three articles published in this journal last year, entitled "Mr. Peabody and his Friends," will not need to be informed that although Mr. Peabody may have parted with many acquaintances in England, he had no very deep-rooted friendship. One of his two or three intimate friends was Sir Emerson Tennant, who died suddenly a few months ago, and another is Sir Curtis Lampson. The latter, we believe, accompanied Mr. Peabody to the steamer at Liverpool, but so quietly was his departure managed that scarcely any one in London heard of it until the day afterward. There are, however, thousands whose good wishes will follow him, and whose regrets would be deep if they believed Mr. Peabody had now completed his last voyage across the Atlantic.

☞ The Chicago Post (Radical) says: "Dr. Mary Pickenbaugh, of St. Louis, will accompany Minister Washburne abroad, in pursuit of health. Who wishes to accompany General Dan. Sickles on the same errand?" The Post forgets that Dr. Mary E. Walker had applied to Grant for the position, and was denied, doubtless for the reason that Sickles had the right to consult his own taste in the matter of choosing a companion, a la mode Kirkpatrick, when he went to Chili.

THE NEW ATLANTIC CABLE.

LONDON, June 11.—A banquet was given on the Great Eastern last evening to celebrate the successful landing of the new French cable. Among the toasts was "England, America, and France," which was appropriately responded to by representatives of the several nations. THE CHURCH BILL IN THE HOUSE OF LORDS.

LONDON, June 11, P. M.—In the House of Lords this evening Lord Bateman asked the intention of the Government in respect to the Irish church bill. Earl Caernarvon and Lord Cairns opposed the question as unnecessary and inexpedient at the present time.

Earl Granville, Secretary of State for the Colonial Department, said, in reference to the outside rumors, that the Government had no intention to depart from the respect that was due to the House of Commons.

The Duke of Abercorn presented a petition of the citizens of Belfast and vicinity, containing 80,000 signatures, against the disestablishment of the Irish Church. In his remarks on the occasion, he said this petition emanated from the most important demonstration ever held in Ireland. He showed the great changes that had taken place in the sentiments of the people since the general election. He believed the people of the north of Ireland were not singular in this particular. He believed the change was going on rapidly and certainly throughout the whole country, on account of the injustice and partiality of the bill.

THE ALABAMA QUESTION POSTPONED.

In the House of Commons this evening the proceedings were mainly unimportant. The debate on the Alabama question was postponed till the 19th.

THE DISTURBANCES IN PARIS.

LONDON, June 11.—The agitation in Paris last night continued. The troops occupied Monte Marte and vicinity and cavalry paraded through the streets all night. Shortly after midnight the crowds in one of the streets in the Monte Marte district broke through the line of police and formed a barricade, but they were dispersed and pursued in all directions by the troops. Many windows were broken and other damage done to property in that quarter of the city. The cavalry charged on the crowd in the streets several times, and many citizens were wounded and one killed.

PRECAUTIONARY MEASURES.

The police have been very active, and it is reported to-day that they have made nearly 600 arrests since Friday. Further disturbances are apprehended, and extraordinary precautions have been taken by the government to prevent them.

D. Wilson, of Indianapolis. The Secretary, in the call that has been issued, announces that each society will be entitled to three delegates, and to an additional one for each ten members over thirty, while each county where there is no regular organization will be counted as a society; and furthermore, that all who attend will be recognized as regularly appointed delegates.

JEFFERSON.

Thomas Watson was tried yesterday for brutally whipping his little step-daughter. The child is but twelve years of age, and when brought into court and her shoulders and arms bared they presented a shocking sight. Great welts and bruises were apparent, and in some places the flesh was cut until the blood oozed out. The punishment was inflicted because she had been sent out to beg and returned at night with less money than her unnatural protector thought she ought to have. After hearing the testimony in the case the Mayor went to the full extent of the law and imposed a fine of thirty dollars and costs, in default of which he was sent to jail.—[Madison Courier, 10th.

CONGO COURT GOSSIP.

Election of a New Queen by the Negro Voudou Worshippers.

[From the N. O. Times 9.]

The first of June, as is known to old gossips, is the time of year that is devoted by the Voudou worshipers to the celebration of their most sacred rites. It is at this period they retire to the Lake-end, and indulge in frequent suppers and midnight bathing, and that the dances and other superstitious observances are practiced with the most vigor and intensity. Any one who is curious to pay them a visit can do so by proceeding to the Lake-end of the Pontchartrain railroad, and going down the road on the right hand side of the track for half a mile.

Another event that is reported to have taken place on Monday was the crowning of a new Voudou Queen in place of the celebrated Marie Leban, who now numbers some sixty or seventy years of age, and who, it need hardly be said, is too old to longer discharge the onerous duties of the office. As most of these followers of the fettish faith are in reality nothing but worshipers of Venus or Astarte, that is to say, of youth and beauty, they naturally are among the first to grow impatient of old age, and so Queen Marie, in spite of the dread with which her name is regarded, finds it best to resign the magic scepter.

A curious study would be the rise and growth of this dark superstition among our colored, and, in some cases, foreign populations, though it doubtless has always existed in some form or other since the first Africans were brought to this country.

Old Marie herself, whose influence and power have been wielded without question for the last twenty years, appears to have been originally a nurse and old family servant known to all the old population, and at one time in great request in dressing the bodies of the dead. It was from this occupation that her pretensions to be the priestess of a religion, and to have the power of effecting events by spells and charms doubtless arose.

Her power was greatly disputed at one time by a rival who had the enterprise to send to Africa for a large doll-like idol, and which, when dressed and bedeviled with beads, tatoo marks and all manner of Congo toggery, produced a tremendous impression among the credulous. It was regarded by Marie as such a dangerous talisman that the idol was carried away—was brought at one time before the Recorder for him to decide whose property it was, or whether any violence had been used in wresting it from its first owner. However, the scales of justice inclined against Rosalie; the magic doll was decreed to the Queen, who, doubtless had the most power as a procuress, and from that time to this the Voudou Queen has swayed the minds of thousands of believers in this city. It is probable that there are at this time a dozen alters in different parts of town.

PAREPA-ROSA.

The "Old, old Story" of a Prima-Donna and her Conductor's Financial Troubles.

[From the Chicago Staats Zeitung.]

Convinced that the public of Chicago will disapprove a mean act on the part of a pair of artistes, to whose treasury a few days ago it so munificently contributed, I feel compelled to make public the following facts. My colleagues outside of Chicago may take warning from my experience that they may not become, as I have, a victim to a new species of confidence operations. About four months ago I was requested by Carl Rosa to arrange a musical festival in Chicago, which should consist of one or two oratorios and concerts. To this end, a chorus of 250 singers had to be organized and provided with music by myself, thoroughly drilled, &c. The business arrangements for the festival were also all left to my care, and in order to insure success to the undertaking I was obliged to give to it the greater portion of my time, and, giving up my business as music teacher, devoted my entire attention to this festival. The consequent loss of time, which I am ready at any moment judicially to prove, was worth to me about $475. How I managed Carl Rosa's business the pecuniary results give witness as well as the artistic success, which, according to the unanimous decision of the public, as well as of the entire press of Chicago, stand alone in the history of musical entertainments in Chicago. For my trouble I was to receive, according to a verbal agreement with De Viva, Rosa's business manager, ten per cent. of the gross receipts, or a similar sum, for, as De Viva remarked, they wished to have no one know how much the receipts were. Supposing that I was dealing with an artiste and a gentleman who would never dream of breaking his engagements, I did not take the precaution, customary with itinerant troupes, and require payment in advance.

How great was my astonishment when Rosa, who had received ten or twelve thousand dollars, offered me only three hundred dollars instead of the thousand dollars which I asked for, while the magnanimous artiste Parepa, in the presence of Mr. Julius Bauer, declared this sum to be too much, and said that one hundred and fifty or two hundred dollars would be more than enough. That I refused this offer as an insult was a natural consequence. I then made the proposition to Rosa to select a committee of three impartial men, who should estimate the value of my services, and declared myself willing, unconditionally, to abide by the sum upon which they should determine, whether it should be more or less than my demand. It was in vain; Rosa would not agree to it.

Tired of quarreling, I had placed my claim in the hands of an attorney, with instructions to arrest Rosa if it should be necessary, in order that he might at least give security for my demand. But, notwithstanding he gave me his word of honor that he would come to my office the next morning at half-past nine o'clock, he left the city at eight o'clock, leaving behind only his treasurer Seguin, who repeated the insulting offer of $300, against whom, however, I could not institute legal proceedings.

This is a truthful statement of the conduct of a man who, while he was enriched several thousand dollars by my labor, now refuses to fulfill his engagements with me. I have given Rosa several days to arrange the matter. And now I have considered it my duty to make public the facts above stated, in order to show the public that one can have become very much skilled in art without having those qualities which are indispensable by the true artist, and to warn my colleagues to be on their guard against the nobility of this artist-couple.

WASHINGTON, June 9, 1869.

THE WASHINGTON NEGROES AS A CLASS.

But there is a field of fact to be worked, deeper and more important than the rebellion of Monday, and that is the calm statement of what sort of a savage, what type of a barbarian, what mould of a murderer, what degree and kind of a brute the average Washington negro in his every-day condition is. This discovered, it will remove all surprise at the revolt of Monday. The true condition of this capital, in the hands and at the mercy of an ignorant, uncivilized, revengeful, remorseless class of barbarian blacks, cannot be understood by any comparison of our case with that of communities more remotely South. A Southern State has less of evil and danger in its political system than this city. The blacks in any of the five districts of despotism are deprived of two adjuncts which here fire their brethren to frenzy and make robbery and murder their chief industry. Those two adjuncts from which the reconstructed regions are relieved are, a present Congress and a Government which maintains them in idleness and pays them wages without work.

BLACK FIGURES.

Out of about 130,000 population, Washington City numbers at least 60,000 blacks and 20,000 carpet-baggers who lead them and share every element of their degradation except their ignorance. Of these 60,000 negroes, at least 57,000 are former slaves. Of the 57,000 former slaves, at least 50,000 are of the class that, in days of peace, were called field-hands—negroes who worked in gangs out in the fields, lived among themselves, and did not pass that hay ordeal of house-service which mellows the darky into an inoffensive, quiet, dutiful animal. Of these 50,000 field hands, at least four-fifths have drifted into this unhappy city in the wake of the Federal armies, and have come from all parts of Virginia, Maryland, and the Carolinas, being the worst of their race, whom the advent of peace entailed upon the best government the world ever saw as "wards," political pets, and virile voters.

THE AFRICAN AS A POLITICAL ELEMENT.

The very fact that they have left their old homes shows what sort of wretches they are. At the close of the war and after the extinguishment of the Confederacy, the sentiment of the people of the South, and even of the horde of harpies who hurried to harrow and harass the land, was favorable to a policy of co-operation with and retention of the colored race in their life-long homes and at their old industries. They were needed by the people as workers. They were required by the carpet-baggers as political allies, and, in the case of Tribune correspondents, as social bed-fellows. Both parties did their best to please and advance the interests of the negroes. There were some however too lazy to work, and too thievish, and too turbulent to be tolerated even in States which accept Bullocks and Warmoths and Spencers and McDonalds and Jack Hamiltons as exponents of their predominant politics. These irreclaimable characters were gradually forced out of the country to Washington; and since they left the dearth of outrages and the lack of massacres in the South have horrified the Northern Radical press and impoverished the portfolio of Mr. Senator Sumner. These negroes alluded to have come to this capital, and they comprise the controlling element in the Republican politics of the city. It was this element which began and continued the outbreak of Monday.

A WILDERNESS OF NEGROES.

They live in that part of the city known as "The Island," which is formed by the Potomac, on the one side, and a canal which traverses the town lengthwise of and about a hundred yard back from Pennsylvania avenue, on the north. The canal—which, originally intended for purposes of navigation, has declined into an offal-ditch and drain-receptacle for all that part of the district it bisects—marks, as distinctly

"As the boundary line Between God's patience and his wrath,"

the confines separating the clean from the unclean, the safe from the dangerous portions of the capital. On the north side of this sinuous sewer live the negroes almost exclusively. The lines of location have been locally named "Murder Bay," "Fredericktown," "Howardtown," and "Uniontown," all these being settlements within the corporated limits of the city, the first leading out from the Long Bridge and the others running in consuccession and ending at the base of old Fort Stanton, across the Northern Branch of the Potomac. These settlements contain negroes only. The localities have been given over wholly to them. It is as literally a negro country as Liberia itself, or as any other part of Africa.

NEST OF MURDERERS.

In this section of the city the white people do not live at all, so far as I could discover from many a walk through it for purposes of observation. Certainly, no white woman would be safe there in the broadest blaze of noon. No white man ever goes there at night who knows the least of the characteristics of this place. In the daytime a man risks his life to go there alone. If he is accompanied, however, by a policeman or two, walks quickly along, and is not tempted to stop and look round him out of curiosity, he may pass without violence, though not without insult. When strangers come to the city they are carefully warned by hotel clerks, by citizens, and by policemen not to venture on the other side of the canal. They do not venture, at least many of them. The records, however, of the principal hotels since 1865 contain the names of about 200 guests who mysteriously disappeared—not to evade board bills, for they have left abundant baggage of value behind them, and have been lost generally on the very first evening of their arrivals. It is known that they have set out for a walk by themselves and have never come back. Not by direct evidence, but by irresistible circumstantial supposition, it is known that these strangers have unwittingly ventured into negro quarters and have been there killed for what was on them and their bodies put out of sight. The Potomac on one side, and the canal—whereof long neglect has made the mud ten and twelve feet deep in parts—on the other, both afford easy and undiscoverable means whereby the victims can be and have been buried out of sight. These men have never turned up. By the very simplicity and brevity of the means employed to rob and murder them, detection has been baffled. It is elaborate slaughter which leaves a trace behind that leads to conviction. For a negro, surrounded by other negroes, who have no regard for human life, and who are keenly appreciable of a division of spoils, to mash out the brains of a white man, to rob him to the skin, and to throw his naked body into a swift river, subsequently placating his confederates or his witnesses with a part of the gains, is the easiest thing in the world to do, yet the hardest thing in the world to find out. Apparently, two hundred and more of these murders have, within four years, been successfully committed by the loyal black Republicans of Washington City. The Rogers murder in New York was a simple, open affair, begun on the sidewalk, finished in a doorway, and all in broad daylight on a public street; yet it has not been found out. These frequent murders by negroes in Washington City secure their perpetrators from detection by the audacious simplicity of their commission.

HOW THEY LIVE.

How these negroes—men, women and children—live is exteriorly a mystery. They toil not, neither do they spin, except round a corner and down a cellar when an officer approaches. At all hours of the day they are to be seen hanging out of windows, squatting at doorsteps, lolling at corners—everywhere but at work. There is really no work done over in their settlements. The groggery is the only business pursued, and for every rum-seller there are about a hundred steady customers. The wretches live well; they are fat, sleek, oily, and wear more and better clothes than white folks who work at manual labor find it possible to buy for themselves and their children. You can be informed how they get along by asking any police officer, or any resident whose house is south of the canal, or any farmer whose acres skirt the opposite Potomac shore.

A SICKENING PICTURE.

These negroes steal, and only steal (except murdering), and that continually. George Truman, the Maryland negro hanged at Frederick, for murder, May 28th, stole the preacher's pocket-handkerchief while engaged in prayer with him the night before his execution. Stealing and lying are as natural to negroes as water to fish. George Truman, whether as murderer or thief, has ten thousand superiors in either respect surviving him in Washington City. Citizens dry their clothes on top of their houses here in order to stop the negroes from stealing them. These people here at least have no idea of social morality. Every blackwoman on "The Island," with only such exceptions as age and sickness make, prostitutes herself gratuitously to every solicitor out of mere love for lust. The men are only less bad because the black women desert them in favor of their white paramours, of whom there are plenty. These negroes, irrespective of sex, herd as animals. Marriage is not even a name among them. "Wife" means "a woman, sar, dat I took up wid, down in Wirginny wen de army moved off." The children all know their mothers, but no child has yet been found on The Island proverbially wise enough to know its own father. As a whole, these negroes are a mass of thieves, murderers, and bawds, the lowest of the low and the vilest of the vile; they only need a year's residence to nullify with their ballots the votes of W. M. Corcoran, Montgomery Blair, Caleb Cushing, or any other citizen.

UNITED STATES COURT.

HON. BLAND BALLARD, JUDGE.

United States against Spalding and others. The juror that was taken sick a few days ago, still being unwell, the jury were adjourned till to-morrow.

Jesse M. Freeman, the Litchfield mail robber, pleaded guilty. No judgment was entered.

Leonard Casey, indicted for having carried on the business of a distiller without first paying the special tax, having pleaded not guilty, a jury was impaneled. The jury, having heard the evidence, returned a verdict of not guilty. Casey was discharged.

Bennett Marks and Nathan Bensinger, well-known brokers of this city, who are jointly indicted, were then arraigned. Each pleaded not guilty. A jury was impaneled.

The indictment charges that they were agents and attorneys of one Catherine Fitzgerald for the collection of a pension which was then and there allowed and due her, Catherine Fitzgerald, from the Government of the United States, and that they, Marks and Bensinger, did collect and receive from the United States a large sum of money, to-wit, $731 87, and that they did wrongfully withhold from Catherine Fitzgerald a part of the said pension so allowed and received by them, to-wit, the sum of $140.

The second count of the indictment charges them with wrongfully withholding from the same party $41 87, being a part of pension collected for her by them.

The third count alleges that they charged, demanded, and received from the same party a greater compensation than is allowed.

The fourth count of the indictment alleges that Marks and Bensinger did collect and receive $732 87 due said Catherine Fitzgerald as a pension, and did charge for collecting the same a larger sum than is allowed by law.

The evidence on the part of the United States was fully heard. The examination of the defendants' witnesses will commence this morning.

In cases like this, the penalty following conviction is a fine of not more than $300, or imprisonment not exceeding two years, or both, as the court may rule.

LOUISVILLE CHANCERY COURT.

HON. THOMAS B. COCHRAN, JUDGE.

Mary Frances Nix against Stephen Nix. This is a suit for divorce. The wife alleges that she intermarried with the defendant on the 3d of September, 1867—that on the 20th of September of the same year he abandoned and deserted her, and has been gone ever since. The divorce was granted.

Florida McKenzie against A. McKenzie. This also is a suit for divorce. The grounds upon which the divorce is asked are these:

1. Such cruel and inhuman conduct on the part of the husband as to indicate a fixed and settled aversion to her, and to permanently destroy her peace and happiness.

2. Wasting and squandering his means, and making no suitable provision for the maintenance of his wife.

3. Assaulting and beating his wife.

4. Fraudulently attempting to get possession of a silver service and a set of parlor furniture, and to sell the same and squander the proceeds.

The silver service, she alleges, is her own separate property, having been conveyed to her by her mother by a deed of gift. The court granted her the divorce, together with the custody of her child. No disposition was made of the question as to the property. It appears a suit is pending in the Common Pleas Court to determine the ownership, D. P. Faulds being one of the claimants of the property.

Interpretation of Contracts.

Grigsby
vs. } From Clark.
Lockmane.

AFFIRMED JUNE 10, 1869—ROBERTSON, JUDGE.

Lockmane, having twenty-two fat steers which he was about to take to Covington for sale, proposed to sell at a certain price to Grigsby, who refused to give so much, but agreed to buy fifteen chosen head at whatever Lockmane, on forthwith carrying the other seven to Covington, should there sell them for per hundred weight. Lockmane on reaching Covington found the market price at $5 50 per hundred, but did not sell for twelve days afterwards, when he sold at $6 per hundred. Grigsby refusing to pay $6 per hundred for the fifteen head, this suit was brought to enforce payment, and a judgment was recovered for that rate.

Held, that the judgment was right.

The true spirit of the contract contemplated such a sale as a prudent owner of such stock in the market would be apt to make, and therefore might be expected to make under the pressure of the cost of keeping until sale. There being no evidence that, as a prudent and faithful man, the appellee ought to have sold sooner or for less than he did, the verdict seems to be sustained by the facts. Local custom as to the time of sale in Covington could not control the terms or constructive effect of the contract. As there was no issue on the question of the currency, and the record authorizes the presumption that the judgment may be satisfied by Treasury notes, this Court cannot adjudge that the judgment is even technically excessive.

Gift of Personalty—Delivery Actual or Constructive Must be Made at Once.

Payne
vs. } From Meade.
Powell,

AFFIRMED, JUNE 5, 1869—HARDIN, JUDGE.

Thomas Payne, by writing, conveyed to his three sons, Thomas, Peter K., and C. C., in consideration of love and affection, all of his personal estate, and released all claims against them. The attorney who drew the paper testified that the donor retained possession of it for several months after its execution, and never did deliver it to either of the donees, and it was found after his death in a pocket-book about his bed. James K., a son of the decedent, testified that his father placed the paper in his hands for safe keeping; that he put it in the pocket-book without his father's knowledge; and John, another son, testified that his father placed the paper in the hands of James K., to be held by him until the old man's death, and then to be delivered up to the boys for whose benefit it was made. The property all remained in the possession of the donor till his death. The court below held that the writing conveyed nothing to the donees.

Held—That the judgment was right.

The writing was not a testamentary instrument, nor was the transaction such as to establish a gift causa mortis. To make a gift of personal property the general rule is that it must go into effect and be completed at once; that it is not a mere promise to be executed in future. Hence a delivery, actual or constructive, is essential to the validity of every gift, and there must be an acceptance by the donee; nor will a transfer by writing alone satisfy the requirements of delivery. James K. Payne was simply the custodian of the paper for his father, without authority to deliver; nor is there evidence of an acceptance of the gift in the lifetime of the donor. It is difficult to reconcile the evidence with an intention on the part of the donor to make an irrevocable or binding disposition of his personal property before his death. Whatever may have been his desire or intention as to its ultimate disposition, he failed to execute any purpose to vest the property in the appellants in either of the modes recognized by law.

WASHBURNE ON PARIS.

Diplomats who Hate to be Sent to Washington.

[From the Correspondence N.Y. World 9.]

PARIS, May 24.

Neptune was as averse as General Grant to Mr. Washburne's company, and he is in Paris. The only sensible thing I have heard of him doing was going to Woodman's to get his clothes. Mr. Washburne will remain isolated here. The French Minister accredited to Washington is in Paris. He is trying his best to get another place. All diplomatists detest Washington, especially the Washington of the Republican party.

There is not a diplomatist in Europe who had not rather go anywhere else than go to Washington. No diplomatist will accept an appointment unless the offer be accompanied with threat of dismissal from diplomatic service. All the diplomatists who return are unanimous in expressing the opinion that the most undesirable town in Europe is far preferable to living among that "vile population." This was not so always, M. de Barcourt, Baron Serrurier, as long as they lived, and M. Pageot, still delights to recall the years he spent at Washington, the able men he met, and the agreeable society in which he moved. What wonder that the capital should have deteriorated, when the ruling element there is a party whose standard of gentlemen is so low?

The body of an unknown woman, supposed to be one of the victims of the mailboat disaster, was taken from the river at Taylorsport, Ky., day before yesterday. The body was so very much decomposed that it was impossible for the Coroner's jury to decide whether it was that of a black or white woman.

On Saturday, June 5, the farm of the late Geo. W. Keeler, deceased, three-fourths of a mile from the town of Mayslick, Mason county, containing about ninety-one acres of choice land, was sold at public sale to Wm. P. Fox for $109 per acre. Terms, one-third cash; deferred payments bearing 6 per cent. interest.

Captain Ben. D. Terry, of Eddyville, a few days since, met with a very serious accident by his horse running away with him in his buggy. The buggy was torn to pieces and the Captain was thrown out against a tree and badly hurt in the side. He is not supposed, however, to be fatally hurt.

About five miles out on the Maysville pike from Mt. Sterling, and midway between the Maysville pike and the romantic little town of Aaron's run, on the road known as the Old Bourbon road, stands a substantial brick church edifice, of the Christian faith, erected in the year 1829, three years after the founding of the faith by Alexander Campbell.

Last Saturday night, two drunken Irishmen went to a saloon in North Middletown, Bourbon county. Being very boisterous and disorderly, the bartender, — Rainy, refused them admittance, whereupon they very unceremoniously kicked the door in. Rainy drew his pistol and fired at them as they were coming through the doorway, but with no effect. Scarcely had the sound of his pistol died away, when some one, concealed on the opposite side of the street, fired at Rainy, the ball passing between his body and right arm.

The following has been received by a citizen of Mt. Sterling: "John Grubbs—Your conduct has been such that we take the responsibility of letting you know this country is tired of you, and you must leave this country in ten days; not only this neighborhood, but the State of Kentucky, and not to return, or we will take the law into our own hands.
Signed, "COMMITTEE."
Under the bottom of this note was drawn a coffin, on which was written "remember this!" Mr. Grubbs, in response to this, announces that he is at home and ready for any emergency.

A difficulty occurred near Crab Orchard last Wednesday evening between the celebrated gold digger, John Pollard, and a young man named Cain, in which the former received a severe stroke in the head with a hatchet, which, it is feared, will prove fatal. Pollard, it seems, was lying asleep near a lime kiln, when Cain and another young man became engaged in a quarrel, and the words son of a b—h passed. This aroused Pollard, who remarked that such language ought not to be used, whereupon Cain applied the epithet to him. Pollard attacked him and received the blow spoken of.

A gentleman from Estill county informs the Richmond Register that there is now living in that county a gentleman who has an interesting daughter about ten years of age. Whilst the child is of a conversant turn, and chats freely with the other members of the family, she has never spoken to her father, although divers means have been resorted to to make her do so. When questioned by her mother as to her singular treatment of her father, her only answer is that she has tried to speak to him, but finds it an impossibility. The father is much attached to her, and her singular conduct of course is a great source of trouble to him.

James B. Oakly was instantly killed last Thursday, while clearing a piece of ground near Owingsville, in the following singular manner: He was endeavoring to loosen two logs that were held to their places upon the slope of the hill by a stump, when they received a sudden start and went sliding downward. At this juncture, Mr. Oakly, who was in front or between the logs, sprang upon one of them with one end of a crowbar in his hand. The other end of the bar being caught under the log he was thrown some twenty feet down the hill, and both logs in their descent passed over him. Mr. Oakly was esteemed for many excellent qualities by all who knew him. During the war he was a member of company F, 2d Ky. M. R., C. S. A.

The Americus Republican reports the crops in Marion, Schley, and Sumter, Ga., as clean and in fine order. Cotton is not large, but has begun to grow vigorously and beautifully. Experienced planters announce their hopes to be confident of a respectable yield, if the present fair prospect is not blasted by unfavorable seasons later. Hands are less given to politics and more devoted to plowing and hoeing than at the same time last year.

At Chattanooga on the 28th of July, 1865, Stokes, of Tennessee, spoke as follows: "FELLOW-CITIZENS: Just think of the idea of a big black niggah, with his toes spraddled out like six prongs, with cracks in his heels that you could put a bolt of calico in, coming up and swearin' away the lives of the loyal white people of East Tennessee. Fellow-citizens, the thing is too awful to contemplate. I am opposed to the niggah's swearing and voting. Hood is the daddy of niggah equality in Tennessee. Look at him! Don't you see the wool in his teeth?"

The San Antonio (Texas) Herald says our suffering citizens of the frontier are now beginning to reap the fruits of the unwise policy inaugurated last winter by Gen. Canby, in garrisoning the interior of Texas and withdrawing the troops from the frontier, thus leaving the persons and property of the frontier settlers at the mercy of the savages. It says that during the last thirty days there is positive evidence that the Indians, besides killing several persons, have destroyed and stolen more property than during any similar period since the settlement of Texas.

Mr. Tally, of Texas, has adopted the following method of destroying the miller, which produces the cotton worm: Mr. T. has constructed a large number of shallow pans, of about two feet in diameter, and not more than one inch in depth. These he fills with coal tar, and in the center he places a small block of wood that reaches just above the tar. On this block of wood Mr. T. places a glass lantern of his own construction—any kind of glass lantern will do—which is lighted between sundown and dark. The light attracts the miller, which, striking against the glass of the lantern, is thrown into the tar, when, of course, its power for mischief is done.

Senter.

In personal appearance the man who did not write the Duncan letter may be considered blessed, as the man who did write the Duncan letter was not. Senter is somewhere on the sunny side of forty—about five feet ten inches high—compactly but rather slightly made—a good-looking, good-natured fellow, who can drink, ride, speak, and play poker with any man of his age and build in Tennessee. His impulses have been always more or less genial. In 1861, as a Union Representative from East Tennessee, he was not unpopular with the rebels. There was no excuse for his arrest and imprisonment. He was taken "down South;" confined for months; and finally released on a bond of $4,000, which guaranteed that he would not take up arms against the Confederacy. Subsequently he had various adventures. The guerrillas attacked his house; he was bushwhacked occasionally; and, until 1865, nothing was very lovely with him. In that year the State government was reorganized and he came to Nashville as a Senator. Ever since he has been a Radical, and it must be owned that he did represent somebody, for his district, which lay in the extreme part of East Tennessee, has doubtless been all along Radical in its politics. Senter began his public career in 1857 as a member of the Legislature. He kept his seat until 1862. He resumed it in 1865. He was elected Speaker of the Senate in 1867, and succeeded Brownlow as Governor six months ago, there being no Lieutenant Governor in Tennessee. Senter's father was a prominent politician, and Senter himself is a man of culture and ability. As a presiding officer he was ready and graceful. Between him and Stokes personally there is little room for comparison. Both however are genuine Radicals. The strange part of the business is that Brownlow supports Senter. As Senter is "good looking," we are inclined to think he will "come in." All in all, it is best for the people, who want peace.

Lack of Veracity.

There is considerable excitement at Mt. Vernon, Ohio, over the removal of Mrs. Hood, late postmaster of that city, and the appointment of Mr. Noah Boynton. Mrs. Hood is the widow of a soldier, and was appointed to the postoffice about two years ago on account of her good character and the needs of herself and her orphans. While she was in office, no charge or complaint was made against her, and she kept herself aloof from parties. None supposed that she would not be continued in office by Grant, but, to make all sure, she visited Washington some weeks ago and received his positive promise that she should not be disturbed. She returned home, confiding in his word and assuring her family and friends that all was right, but, to her utter amazement, she was removed in a few days without previous warning, and no explanation was given her or has since been given her. Such breach of faith toward a woman, such downright lying to a soldier's widow, is indeed utterly disgraceful. It is a crime for which no penalty could well be too severe.

The poor widow's successor is a fellow whose only recommendation to Grant is that he is an unscrupulous and offensive Radical brawler. If the President shall ever keep a promise, we shall, unless it be a promise to perpetrate a wrong, be happy to record the fact.

Ashley in his New Home.

Ashley seems to be rightly appreciated in the Territory of Montana, over which, by the grace of General Grant, he is now exercising authority. He has begun his official career by uttering lies, but the toes of exposure tread upon their heels. The Helena (Montana) Gazette refers to a recent statement of his that he owns "no town lots or quartz property" in that region, and vehemently asserts in reply that his title to twenty-five feet of the celebrated Whitlatch Union lode is on record in the registry office of Louis and Clark county. The editor then lets loose on the rascal in this fashion:

> He does not come here with clean hands. He says he owns no quartz. He lies. The evidence stands out in bold relief against him in the Recorder's office of Lewis and Clark county. Let him pray to God for forgiveness of his past sins. Let him reform his morals, and once in his life do his best to be honest and decent, and all will be well with him. By virtue of the organic act and an unfavorable Providence, he is the legal Governor of Montana. But woe be unto him if he undertakes to cut high old Radical fantastic tricks in this glorious, free and inpependent Territory; for, should he do so, mountains might fall upon him and in vain screen him from the wrath of an indignant people.

President Grant has pledged himself to remove any of his appointees that he finds unworthy. When will he remove Ashley, whom it was an infamy to appoint?

☞ Borie, Grant's poor old Secretary of the Navy, undertook to dance at the late brilliant naval ball at Annapolis and fell sprawling at full length upon the floor. It took three or four middies to set him upon his feet. The imprisoned laughter gave a good many of the crowd the belly-ache. Admiral Porter's man's accomplishments as a dancer at balls and as a caperer in the Naval Department are about equal.

Radical Eulogy on the Washington Negroes.

The Cincinnati Evening Chronicle, a really able paper, which, a few weeks ago chanted in all seriousness the praise and glory of nepotism and sneered at President Washington and President Jefferson because they did not practice it during their administrations, now points to the municipal elections of last Friday at the capital as evidence that the negroes use their newly-acquired power with moderation and forbearance, behaving with more propriety at the polls than the white voters. Yes, although the negroes took complete possession of the polls in the midst of the night before the election and kept it until nearly noon on the day of the election; although they filled the streets at or near the polls throughout the whole of that day, armed with pistols, razors, clubs, and other weapons of warfare; although they provided themselves with tickets of a peculiar appearance in order that no one should be able to vote against them without their knowing the offender; although they openly avowed and caused it to be universally understood that no man of their own color should vote any other than the negro ticket without being marked for vengeance; although one poor freedman, guilty of attempting to vote the citizens' ticket, was set upon and driven, amidst the yells and hootings of a mob of infuriated blacks, to a place of refuge, where the police had the utmost difficulty in saving his life; although the negroes made repeated and murderous attacks upon the police, which consisted by the way of their own political friends; and although they behaved in all respects and without the least provocation like maddened savages, endeavoring to kill and wound all who attempted to resist them in the exhibition of their insane fury—although all these things and many more of the same kind occurred and are matters of record, the Radical champions, with an air of partisan pride and exultation, point to the incidents of the Washington elections as evidence of the meekness and gentleness of spirit, with which, in comparison with the whites, the black race use the high and sacred privileges of the elective franchise. We hope that the Cincinnati editor will carefully and impartially divide his eulogies hereafter between nepotism and the Washington negroes.

Georgia.

Until within the last two or three weeks, there was a good deal of political apathy in Georgia. It involved not only the white population, but to a considerable extent the black. In several local elections, held since November, not much interest was taken, and some exertion was neccesary to induce the voters to go to the polls.

The Georgia Conservatives however seem to be awaking to the propriety of effort. They have learned their strength, and they realize the importance of exercising it and making it manifest to the nation. They see that Radicalism in their State is at their mercy, or that at any rate, without extraordinary interference from the Federal Government or the State Government, few candidates of the Radical party have a chance of being elected. The evident power of the Democratic masses of Georgia, though partially slumbering, has demoralized the Radicals, who, weak even when united, are now daily splitting into hopeless and discordant factions.

There is some danger to the Georgia Democracy from over-confidence, but the greatest and in fact the only very serious danger is from military interference under the authority and direction of the Administration. Undoubtedly this last danger is serious to the last degree. The knowledge of the Radical leaders that there is scarcely a possibility of their carrying the State by any ordinary means has prompted them to get up all the infamous fabrications in regard to assassinations never committed, expecting thereby to procure the temporary establishment of such military rules and regulations as will enable them to control the ballot-box according to their own will in defiance of popular majorities.

What an Enemy Thinks.

> We can imagine one of Napoleon's veterans gazing with curious eyes at the armless and legless veterans who turn the hand-organs at our street-corners, and asking in what battle they obtained such a remarkable reward of valor. It might surprise him to find that the hand-organs are not supplied by the War Department, and that no employment under Government could be furnished to our disabled veterans so long as Congressmen continued to have such wide circles of kindred.—[Imperialist.

The foregoing is from the New York organ that goes for the changing of our form of government from that of a nominal Republic to that of an Empire. What true-hearted American citizen will not blush that the enemies of our institutions can point to thousands and thousands of cases in illustration of the justice of their bitter comments on the disgraceful spectacles to be seen everywhere in our land. Alas! in all of our cities maimed veterans turn hand-organs for pennies at the corners of the streets, whilst healthy and rollicking young fellows batten and fatten upon the offices of the Government.

Marvelous Cure of an Ovarian Tumor—Certificate from the Patient, a Resident of Cincinnati for over 30 Years.

CINCINNATI, Jan. 29, 1869.

DR. JAS. C. KERR—Dear Sir: For five years I was a sufferer from an Ovarian tumor, which grew to a very large size. It was treated by our family physician, who finally said it must be removed by a surgical operation, or I must die. In September, 1867, I was persuaded to try your GREAT SYSTEM RENOVATOR, and in less than four months the tumor had entirely disappeared, and my general health had greatly improved. I have been a resident of Cincinnati for thirty-three years, and for nearly twenty years have occupied my present residence, No. 90 John st. My husband, Wm. Newell, of the Ætna Insurance Company, has also been greatly benefited by your medicine. I think the world should know what a miraculous cure your medicine effected in my case.
MRS. AGNES NEWELL,
No. 90 John street.

CINCINNATI, March 31, 1868.

DR. J. C. KERR—Dear Sir: I feel it my duty to send you the following information, both from gratitude to yourself and for the benefit of those in distress who may need it. Last spring, having tried in vain the prescriptions of my physician for general debility, arising from sedentary pursuits, you advised me to take your great System Renovator, which you assured me was no quack medicine. With great pleasure let me assure you that a few bottles entirely restored me to my former good health, and besides the restoration of my health, I gained 20 pounds in a few weeks, and am now a robust, vigorous man. Indeed, its effects are truly marvelous. Yours, truly,
NOAH B. WELLS, Gas Office.

COVINGTON, March 20, 1868.

DR. J. C. KERR—Dear Sir: I have been suffering for many years from constipation. I have tried a great many different kinds of remedies, but never have received any benefit from any until I tried Dr. James C. Kerr's Great System Renovator. It has effected an entire cure. I think it my duty to let the public know the value of this great medicine.
Capt. O. PALMER, Sup't Marine Underwriters.

CINCINNATI, March 21, 1868.

TO THE PUBLIC—For years I have been afflicted with the bleeding piles, so much so as to incapacitate me for business at times. I have tried many different remedies, but never received permanent benefit until I tried Dr. Jas. C. Kerr's Great System Renovator. It has effected an entire cure.
C. W. HOWLAND, 170 West Fifth st.

CINCINNATI, March 25, 1868.

MESSRS. KERR & LORING—Gentlemen: Last fall I was afflicted with the dumb ague, and through the kindness of a friend I was induced to try Dr. James C. Kerr's Great System Renovator. I had but little faith in its efficiency, but concluded to give it a fair trial; and after the use of three bottles I found myself permanently cured, and can but recommend it to all those suffering with the same disease. Yours, truly,
R. S. LEE, Ohio Machine Works.

CINCINNATI, April 10, 1868.

DR. J. C. KERR—Dear Sir: My daughter, aged 12 years, attending school, has been subject to severe sick headache, for which we found no relief, until using your Great System Renovator. Since using it, she has entirely recovered, and has had no subsequent attack of it. My little son, aged 4 years, has also been in poor health, with loss of appetite, &c., and, after having been attended by several physicians of our city without experiencing relief, we were induced to give him your System Renovator, which has proved entirely effectual in restoring him to health. I, therefore, most cheerfully concur with others in recommending your most valuable preparations.
Very respectfully, THOS. H. CURD,

MAMMOTH CAVE

—AND—

GLASGOW JUNCTION HOTELS.

L. J. & W. R. PROCTER,
PROPRIETORS.

THE Mammoth Cave is now open for the reception of visitors, with prospects of a brilliant season, and is located within 7 miles of the Louisville and Nashville Railroad, at Glasgow Junction, formerly known as Bell's Tavern, and celebrated in former years, while under the management of its founder, the late Wm. Bell, Esq., as being one of the BEST HOTELS in America.

The proprietors of the Mammoth Cave Hotel have purchased this property, which is 3 miles nearer the Mammoth Cave than any other station on the Louisville and Nashville Railroad, and the same has been repaired and furnished in good style, and a first-class line of conveyances connect with all trains north and south, conveying passengers for ONE DOLLAR each way, being 50 cents less each way than heretofore charged by other routes, and the distance being much less. The trip will be made fully three-quarters or one hour sooner than by any other route. Visitors by taking the route by way of Glasgow Junction will be entitled to 25 per cent. deduction on all regular charges at Mammoth Cave Hotel (our regular charges being $4 per day and $18 per week); but persons visiting the Cave by way of Glasgow Junction, and exhibiting their tickets at the office of the Hotel, will be charged $3 per day, or $13 50 per week. The charges for conveying parties to Mammoth Cave have heretofore been excessive, and persons having been unnecessarily detained at the railroad, we have built a splendid road from Glasgow Junction to Mammoth Cave, and thus propose the above deduction for the benefit and accommodation of visitors, and will make no deduction only for parties conveyed by Glasgow Junction.

The railroad fare from Louisville to Glasgow Junction is 25 cents more than to Cave City, and 25 cents less from all points south than to Cave City.

Liberal arrangements made with a limited number of families for the season.

For further information address the undersigned, at Glasgow Junction. All communications promptly answered.

WINTERSMITH'S TONIC SIRUP,

—OR—

IMPROVED CHILL CURE,

BEING AN IMPROVEMENT ON HIS LIMERICK CHILL CURE.

A CERTAIN REMEDY FOR EVERY FORM OF FEVER AND AGUE.

The Cure is Permanent--The Chill, Once Broken, Will Not Return.

Contains No Quinine or Arsenic, nor Any Deleterious Substance Whatever.

This preparation is carefully compounded of purely vegetable ingredients, and never fails, when properly taken, to cure the most obstinate case of fever and ague, neuralgia, and all malarious diseases. Unlike chill remedies generally, it requires no purgative to be taken with it, the medicine itself acting gently and agreeably upon the liver and bowels, effectually removing the cause of the disease, not merely temporarily checking it. Herein consists one great advantage it has over all other preparations. The crowning excellence of this remedy, however, above the permanency and certainty of its cure, is the fact that no injury whatever can arise from its use, as is certain to be the case when quinine or arsenic are taken, which are the principal ingredients of most of the chill medicines now in use. Quinine, acting upon the nervous system, produces, according to our best authorities, "a feeling of tightness or distension of the head, ringing, buzzing or roaring in the ears, partial deafness," &c., and, when the dose is increased, "complete deafness, diminution or loss of sight, dilated or immovable pupil, coma, and great prostration."

Wintersmith's Tonic Sirup leaves the system in a perfectly healthy condition, with no bad effects in any way to be worn off.

Another great virtue claimed for this medicine, and wherein consists its superiority over other medicines, is that the cure is permanent. It rarely requires more than a day or two to effectually break the chill, and, once broken, they will not return.

Hundreds of letters are daily received testifying to the efficacy and wonderful virtues of this remedy. It is very popular wherever sold, taking the place of any Chill remedy it comes in competition with.

WINTERSMITH'S WORM CANDY!

—OR—

SANTONIN LOZENGES

The Most Reliable Vermifuge Ever Offered to the Public.

Compounded of Purely Vegetable Ingredients.

ENTIRELY HARMLESS--SAFE FOR CHILDREN OF ANY AGE.

Never Fails to Effectually Destroy Worms.

Since the discovery of Santonin, the tasteless active principle of the European Worm-seed (Semen Contra) its consumption has wonderfully increased. The seed in substance has been long and favorably known as a vermifuge, but its unpleasant taste and odor, and the bulk of the dose, have interfered with its use in this country. At this time, the Santonin, on account of its being tasteless, and a reliable vermifuge, is fast displacing all other remedies for worms.

Almost all of the popular worm nostrums of the day depend for their efficacy upon the Santonin which they contain; but in these it is found in varying proportions and of uncertain purity; and very often again in combination with other elements unknown to the physicians, and often hazardous in their nature.

My purpose is to present to the medical profession this valuable medicine in a simple, reliable, and agreeable form, in determined quantities, and of uniform composition. To accomplish this, I have prepared these lozenges with great care, of Santonin of tested purity, very carefully distributed throughout the mass from which the Lozenges formed.

The materials have been so compounded that the Lozenges will stand unaltered by time or climate. The boxes are also impervious to moisture from the atmosphere.

To give the Santonin time for full effect upon the worms, the addition of any purgative medicine to the Lozenges has been avoided. It may therefore be proper, two or three hours after the administration of the second dose, to use some simple purgative for the purpose only of discharging the worms.

These Lozenges contain only pure sugar and pure Santonin. The only merit I claim is the ascertained purity of the ingredients, and its thorough and careful distribution so that each Lozenge contains its exact portion of Santonin; the dose sufficiently indicating the quantity.
C. H. WINTERSMITH.

Thousands of Children die annually for the want of a Reliable Worm Destroyer.

Public Letting of Kentucky River Improvements.

THE Commissioners of the Sinking Fund having declined to accept the bid for the lease of the Kentucky River Improvements made on the 1st day of May, inst., I am instructed by said Commissioners to readvertise the letting of said improvements for the period of fifty years, to take place in the city of Frankfort, at the Court-house door, SATURDAY, 26th of June, prox., at 12 o'clock M., upon the terms and conditions specified in an act approved Feb. 24, 1869.

Said improvements consist of five locks and dams, lock-houses, tools, implements, apparatus, materials, &c. Among the articles enumerated is a large quantity of lumber, accumulated for the purpose of repairing the dams and gates on said river.

The gross amount of tolls received by the Collector from said five gates from the 1st day of January last to the 17th inst., reaches the sum of $9,295 45, and the estimated cost of the repairs necessary to be made on said improvements to continue them in good boating condition is $4,181.

This estimate was made recently by the late Chairman of the Board of Internal Improvements for the State (who is a practical civil engineer), after a full examination of the works and their condition.

ADDRESS

—TO THE—

Nervous and Debilitated

WHOSE SUFFERINGS HAVE BEEN

PROTRACTED FROM HIDDEN CAUSES,

—AND—

Whose Cases Require Prompt Treatment

—TO—

RENDER EXISTENCE DESIRABLE.

If you are suffering, or have suffered, from involuntary discharges, what effect does it produce upon your general health? Do you feel weak, debilitated, easily tired? Does a little extra exertion produce palpitation of the heart? Does your liver, or your urinary organs, or your kidneys, frequently get out of order? Is your urine sometimes thick, milky, or flocky, or is it ropy on settling? Or does a thick scum rise to the top? Or is a sediment at the bottom after it has stood awhile? Do you have spells of short breathing or dyspepsia? Are your bowels constipated? Do you have spells of fainting, or rushes of blood to the head? Is your memory impaired? Is your mind constantly dwelling upon this subject? Do you feel dull, listless, moping, tired of company, of life? Do you wish to be left alone, to get away from everybody? Does any little thing make you start or jump? Is your sleep broken or restless? Is the luster of your eye as brilliant? The bloom on your cheek as bright? Do you enjoy yourself in society as well? Do you pursue your business with the same energy? Do you feel as much confidence in yourself? Are your spirits dull and flagging, given to fits of melancholy? If so, do not lay it to your liver or dyspepsia. Have you restless nights? Your back weak, your knees weak, and have but little appetite, and you attribute this to dyspepsia or liver complaint?

Now, reader, self-abuse, venereal diseases badly cured, and sexual excesses are all capable of producing a weakness of the generative organs. The organs of generation, when in perfect health, make the man. Did you ever think that those bold, defiant, energetic, persevering, successful business men are always those whose generative organs are in perfect health? You never hear such men complain of being melancholy, of nervousness, of palpitation of the heart. They are never afraid they cannot succeed in business; they don't become sad and discouraged; they are always polite and pleasant in the company of ladies, and look you and them right in the face—none of your downcast looks or any other meanness about them. I do not mean those who keep the organs inflamed by running to excess. These will not only ruin their constitutions, but also those they do business with or for.

How many men, from badly cured diseases, from the effects of self-abuse and excesses, have brought about that state of weakness in those organs that has reduced the general system so much as to induce almost every other disease—idiocy, lunacy, paralysis, spinal affections, suicide, and almost every other form of disease which humanity is heir to, and the real cause of the trouble scarcely ever suspected, and have doctored for all but the right one.

Diseases of these organs require the use of a Diuretic.

HELMBOLD'S

Fluid Extract Buchu

is the great Diuretic, and is a certain cure for diseases of the Bladder, Kidneys, Gravel, Dropsy, Organic Weakness, Female Complaints, General Debility, and all diseases of the Urinary Organs, whether existing in Male or Female, from whatever cause originating, and no matter of how long standing.

If no treatment is submitted to, Consumption or Insanity may ensue. Our flesh and blood are supported from these sources, and the health and happiness, and that of posterity, depends upon prompt use of a reliable remedy.

DR. H. T. HELMBOLD:

Two bottles only of the package of your valuable Buchu presented to the Institution have been used by the children, and with perfect success. In the case of our little Lieutenant, A. J., his pride is no longer mortified, and he is free from the daily morning anathemas of the chambermaid who has charge of his bedding. I feel that a knowledge of the result of our use of your Buchu with the children under our charge may save many a Superintendent and Matron of Boarding Schools and Asylums a great amount of annoyance; and many a poor child, suffering more from weakness than from habit, may be spared punishment, that is (not knowing it as a weakness instead of a bad habit) most unjustly inflicted upon them. Thanking you on behalf of the children, and hoping others may be alike benefited,

I am respectfully yours,
COL. YOUNG,

MR. H. T. HELMBOLD:

DEAR SIR: Your communication requesting our terms of advertising was duly received, but, from prejudice I had formed against advertising "cures for secret diseases," it was left unanswered. During an accidental conversation in a drug store the other evening, my mind was changed on the character of your BUCHU. It was then highly recommended for other diseases by two physicians present.

SATURDAY MORNING, JUNE 12, 1869.

ROUND-ABOUT.

I.

The Iron Crown of Italy.

The iron crown of Italy is of gold, having inside a ring of iron, said to have been made from the nails of the cross on which our Savior was crucified. It was made by order of Theudelinde for her husband, Agilulf, 591. She presented it to the church of Monza. Charlemagne was crowned with it, and after him all the emperors who were kings of Lombardy. Napoleon, at Milan, May 26th, 1805, put it on his head, saying: "Dieu me l'a donne; gare a quiy touchera," (God has given it to me; woe to him who touches it.) It is now in possession of the Austrians.

II.

Cardinal de Lucca.

A correspondent, writing from Rome of a reception given by Miss Cushman, says that among the remarkable persons present was Cardinal de Lucca—the "learned Cardinal," as he is called. His eminence is under size, and looks, in his beautiful costume and scarlet stockings, like a prince in a fairy tale, enchanted by some old witch. He has a true Italian face, long nose, large nostrils, black eyes, and swarthy complexion—a face that is full of observation, but very quiet and wise-looking; courtly manners, but extremely simple and natural.

III.

"Old Harvard."

Another post-graduate scholarship has been established in Harvard College. The scholarship will draw from the funds of the college an income of $800 per year. The student selected will be required to reside at Cambridge, pursue such general studies as are approved by the faculty, but not take up any special studies with a view to a profession; shall prepare from time to time essays and dissertations to show that he has made satisfactory progress in his position; and shall not hold any position of profit either in or out of the college other than that of proctor or assistant at the examinations.

IV.

Thiers.

The Paris Figaro corrects the popular notion that M. Thiers was the son of a blacksmith of Aix. It says that his father was an advocate of the Parliament of Marseilles, and his mother, Marie Madeleine Amie, the daughter of a delegate of the commercial population of Constantinople under Louis XV. The latter was married to a lady whose sister was the wife of Louis de Chenier, so that M. Thiers' mother was cousin to the celebrated poet Andre Chenier, who perished on the guillotine in 1793. She was a warm supporter of the Comte de Chambord, and always regretted that her son did not join the Legitimist party.

V.

Artificial Ice.

One of the industrial activities of New Orleans is the artificial production of ice in large quantities. The process is of French invention, and the success which has attended the operations of the manufactory has exceeded the expectations of the proprietors. The ice is said to possess many advantages over Northern ice. It is more wholesome, they say, because made of Mississippi water. It is colder. That is to say, machinery outdoes nature in making ice that is long in melting. The Secretary of the Ice Company lately made a wager with the largest of the ice shipping houses of Boston as to the superiority of their respective specimens, and the experiment was made with blocks of the same size under equal exposure. The manufactured ice outlasted the imported article.

VI.

The International Boat Race.

It is thought that Harvard's chances of winning the international race are not so bad after all. The average ages of the two crews will be nearly alike. The aggregate weight of the Oxford crew considerably exceeds that of the Harvard crew at last accounts—Harvard's men weighing 661 lbs., and Oxford's 784¼ lbs. The Harvard shell will be lighter than Oxford's, and the Harvard "style" of rowing is claimed to exceed that of Oxford rowing, though the principle is nearly the same. Last year the Harvard six-oar crew, in their race with Yale at Worcester, made the first mile in five minutes and thirty seconds; while five minutes and fifty seconds is calculated as the best English eight-oar time on a mile course. But Harvard has never pulled a four-oared race before, nor carried a coxswain.

VII.

The Effect of Diet on the Brain.

"Monsieur Cabasson has presented to the French Academy a curious essay on the effect of diet on the moral and intellectual faculties of man. Its influence is, in his opinion, so great that it would scarcely be an exaggeration to parody a well-known proverb and say, 'Dis mois ce que tu manges, et je te dirai ce que tu es.' In a passage of the 'Miserables' Victor Hugo likens French vivacity to the light French wines, and English ponderosity to 'portarcheer;' and many Frenchmen are convinced that the distinguishing traits of the two nations may in a great measure be ascribed to the use of these beverages. But M. Cabasson has dived far more deeply into the subject, and experimentalized on his own person with various articles of food—coffee taken on an empty stomach seems to have produced most startling effects. He informs us that immediately after imbibing it his ideas acquired unusual profundity, his style in writing was cold but correct, while, on the other hand, his temper underwent a pernicious change; he became morose, egotistical, and generally disagreeable. A moderate breakfast restored him to his normal state, and the disappearance of intellectual profundity was compensated for by an influx of genial and generous ideas.

STATE POLITICS.

Isaac Vanarsdell, of Bath, having no political aspirations, refuses to make the Legislative race in that county.

The candidates for the Senate addressed the citizens of Lincoln county, at Walnut Flat, Thursday.

J. L. Hibbs, Esq., is a candidate for the Legislature in the counties of Livingston and Marshall.

The Cynthiana News contains no less than four calls from as many precincts upon T. J. Megibben to become a candidate for the Legislature.

The following Assistant Assessors have been appointed in the Lexington District upon the nomination of Colonel Prall, since he came into office as Assessor:

For Fayette—James M. Pinkerton. For Scott—Milton Stevenson. For Boyle and Lincoln—Capt. Wm. Goodloe. For Mercer—Dr. John L. Smedley. For Jessamine—Tucker Woodson.

The Executive Committee of the Democratic party in Harrison county have issued a call for a delegate convention to assemble at the court-house in Cynthiana, on July County Court day, to select a candidate for the next Legislature. The delegates are to be selected at meetings of the party held the previous Saturday in the different election precincts.

The Upper Town precinct meeting was held in the court-house in Owensboro Saturday evening last, to express their choice for the various offices to be nominated by the convention that will be held there on Saturday, the 12th inst. After an exciting contest for the various offices the precinct instructed their delegates to cast their votes on the first ballot for the following gentlemen: For Senator, Sam. H. Jesse; Representative, Clinton Griffith; County Attorney, V. T. Crawford.

Says the Owensboro Monitor: "We are glad to know that the many friends of those estimable gentlemen in the city of Louisville have determined to re-elect the Hons. George W. Anderson and Patrick Campion without opposition to their seats in the Lower House of the next Legislature. The people of their respective wards could hardly make better selections, as their faithful and intelligent discharge of duties in the positions the two years past will furnish ample proof. They might go farther and fare much worse; most surely not better themselves."

At a meeting of the Boyle county Executive Committee last week it was resolved that the negro testimony question should not be made a party test. But, in order to satisfy every one and to maintain the unity of the party, they have taken the necessary steps to have a poll opened at every voting precinct in the district at the August election, and to take the sense of the Democratic voters upon this question. Col. Breckinridge, like a true Democrat as he is, unhesitatingly states that he will obey the will of his party in this matter.

The Owensboro Monitor says: "Mr. J. G. Ford, the contestant of Mr. Clinton Griffith, having withdrawn from the canvass, leaves Mr. Griffith the only candidate before the people of Daviess county to represent them in the popular branch of the next General Assembly of our State. We believe we utter the wish and desire of a large majority of the people of our county, that Mr. Griffith should have no further opposition, and that he should receive the nomination by the united support of every Democratic voter in Daviess. Mr. Griffith possesses, in a high degree, every qualification for a safe, prudent and wise legislator. Born and reared amongst the people of our county, his interests are identified with theirs, and familiar with their wants and wishes he would, by an intelligent appreciation of them, labor to secure such legislation for our county as would best promote its interests and welfare."

Says the Danville Advocate: "It was our pleasure to hear the discussion last Wednesday afternoon at the court-house between the candidates for the Senate. The speech of Col. Breckinridge was able, dignified and argumentative, and his thrusts at his opponents sharp, incisive and telling. If the question at issue was an important one, he handled it as its importance demanced. Candor compels us to say, also, that Mr. Sneed made a fairer presentation of his side of the question than we were prepared to expect. But of Col. Talbott, what shall we say? We confess we went to the court-house fully prepared to listen to a master-piece of demagoguery, in which the merits of the question would not be discussed, but slurred over, and the passions of the people appealed to in every possible way. Our expectations were not only fully met, but far surpassed, and we could but wonder if the people would be deceived by such things."

GEORGETOWN COLLEGE.

The Late Commencement Exercises.

[Correspondence of the Courier-Journal.]

GEORGETOWN, June 10, 1869.

The 10th was truly a gala day at Georgetown. Before 9 o'clock the large tent made for such occasions, and capable of seating from four to five thousand, was filled to its utmost capacity, while numerous groups were gathered upon the outskirts, in the beautiful campus, eagerly intent upon witnessing the interesting exercises of the occasion.

From 9 to 12½ o'clock the vast assembly listened to addresses from a number of young men, which, for thought and ability, would have done credit to much older heads; after which the erudite and able President, Dr. N. M. Crawford, conferred the first degree upon the class having just graduated, with so much credit to themselves and honor to the institution.

Also the title of Doctor of Divinity was conferred upon our worthy friend and brother, Rev. A. L. Spaulding, of Louisville, and Rev. S. Landrum, of Georgia.

We know of no one who more richly deserves the doctorate than the talented young pastor of the Walnut-street Baptist Church.

At 8 o'clock P. M. of the 9th inst., we attended the meeting of the Alumni. It was truly delightful to look upon so many familiar faces, and think of the many hundreds of our most talented merchants, mechanics, civil and military engineers, farmers, lawyers, politicians, ministers of the gospel, editors, and men in every and all places of trust, honor and usefulness, who have in the last half a century gone forth from that college. Truly, Georgetown college has done more for the moral, intellectual, social and material development of the Mississippi valley than any college west of the Allegheny mountains.

At 3 o'clock P. M. of Wednesday we were present at the meeting of the Educational Society of the College. The Treasurer's report made the interesting exhibit that $76,000 of the Campbell endowment fund had been paid in and reinvested in good and safe stocks yielding a good per cent., while $33,000, with $15,000 of interest, all now due, still remain uncollected. The Board of Trustees were instructed to force payment by law if notes were not paid or renewed within three months from date—all of which is right and should have been done long ago. No right-thinking man can blame a Board of Trustees to whom are committed great public interests if in faithfulness to their trust they know no one as friend or foe, but to do their duty. It is to be hoped that parties in and around Georgetown will set the example in this matter, and that others will soon follow suit, and thus enable the Board of Trustees to place the endowment fund on a sure basis. The whole fund when paid will amount to near $120,000. It is confidently believed that if the matter was vigorously plied by some wise and prudent member of the alumni society, the present endowment fund could be doubled by those who have been educated in the institution during the next ten years. Let us agitate that matter at the future meetings of the alumni, and never falter until we accomplish our object.

ALUMNUS.

The Burksville Academy.

[Correspondence of the Courier-Journal.]

BURKSVILLE, KY., June 9, 1869.

The pleasure of attending two of the grandest exhibitions that have been witnessed by the patrons and friends of our schools came off on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings. The rare faculties essential for giving universal satisfaction are embodied in the person of our Principal, the Rev. James R. Hoover, of the Christian church, formerly of Nicholasville, Ky., a young man of unusual talent and acquirements. His assistants, the charming and lovely Miss Rhetta B. Hoover, and the beautiful and accomplished Miss Laura Powell, of Lexington, Ky., a recent graduate of the Eminence College, rendered invaluable aid, not only in discoursing the sweetest and richest music, in which both are thoroughly versed, but in superintending the decoration of the stage and accompanying paraphernalia.

The scenery and distribution of the flowers were superb, and gave ample evidence of the artistic skill and exquisite taste which is characteristic of both of them. The exercises consisted of orations, essays, tableaux, charades, interspersed with duets, songs, and music on the piano, guitar and violin. The young lady students, all of whom are talented and pretty, and ornaments to society, acquitted themselves nobly, viz: Misses Sallie Wells, Mary Owsley, Nannie and Saloma Dixon, Lizzie Boles, Lucie Paull, Laura Herford, Lizzie Ritchey, and Sallie Alexander. The toilet of each was elegant in the extreme, and nothing was omitted to render the occasion pleasant and amusing. All present were perfectly delighted with the exercises, progress, and discipline of the students, and, to crown the happiness of the principal and fill his cup of joy to overflowing, he has wooed and won and culled from the "parent stem" one of Cumberland's fairest and most intellectual daughters. He will lead his bride to the "Hymeneal altar" to-morrow evening at 9 o'clock, at the residence of the bride's father, Dr. T. S. Ellison. The bridal party will be accompanied as far as the Mammoth Cave by several ladies and gentlemen, where they design remaining a few days, thence through Louisville to Nicholasville.

P.

The Jackson Tragedy.

The Memphis Ledger of Thursday publishes the following:

Col. Yerger had a previous difficulty with Col. Crane, growing out of this same transaction. During Yerger's absence to this city, Crane caused a very valuable piano belonging to Yerger to be seized and sold, and became the purchaser himself at a mere nominal sum. On Yerger's return he demanded personal satisfaction of Crane. This was refused by Crane. At the time of the homicide the parties had met in the street, and Yerger denounced Crane, to which Crane responded by an attempt to cane Yerger, and in defense of himself Yerger drew his knife and inflicted the wound which proved fatal.

The public should be slow in making their verdict against Yerger, as there are many mitigating circumstances connected with the affair which will show that Yerger acted in self-defense.

The conduct of Crane was grossly outrageous and aggravating, and the dispatch first sent is a one-sided affair, and evidently gotten up in the interest of the Radicals, as it comes from the Radical operator at Jackson.

LATER.

A gentleman who came from Jackson yesterday states that Yerger challenged Crane and that Crane refused to fight him. Yerger then denounced him on the street. Crane was armed and finally drew a pistol, whereupon Yerger closed upon him with the knife. Crane was formerly in the army, but had been mustered out of service, and at the time of his death was mayor of the city by military appointment. Yerger's piano was sold for city taxes, and considerable telegraphic correspondence had taken place on the subject while he was here.

JEFFERSONVILLE.

JEFFERSONVILLE, June 12.

Thieves are in town.

A Fourth of July excursion is talked of.

The Presbyterian and Rose Hill Mission Sunday Schools are to have a united picnic in Barker's grove next Thursday.

A small branch a foot in length was plucked from a cherry tree of Captain S. S. Lyons' yesterday having just one hundred cherries on it.

Mr. William G. Armstrong and Miss Margie Howard were married at the bride's residence, a few miles from "Jeff.," on Thursday night.

A large timber wheel belonging to the Louisville Bridge and Iron Company broke down at the corner of Spring and Maple streets yesterday. Cause, a defective spindle.

Hon. James McCampbell, President of the First National Bank, and lay representative from Jeffersonville to the General Assembly of Presbyterians at New York, returned home yesterday morning.

On Sunday afternoon Prof. Locke, of Maine, will lecture in Holmes and Thias' Hall at 7 o'clock, on the subject of temperance. Mr. Locke is an old and experienced lecturer, and is noted for his humorous and pithy discourses.

The ladies of Rose Hill Mite Society have been working against wind and tide in the conducting of their festival, but obstacles only called forth their best efforts, and show them equal to the emergency. To-night is the last evening of the festival, and there is no occasion to say go when there are so many strong inducements to attract the benevolent and amusement seeking people of "Jeff."

The benefit of Miss Effie Johns last evening was a bouncer. The two side-splitting pieces—Po-ca-hon-tas and Stage Struck—kept the audience in continual good humor. Miss Johns, as well as all the other members of the company, excelled their previous effort. To-night the beautiful two-act domestic drama, "Theresa's Vow," also "Irish Assurance and Yankee Modesty," will be produced. This will be the last opportunity. The bill is a good one and the house should be full.

NEW ALBANY.

NEW ALBANY, June 12.

Mary Haines was before Justice Jocelyn yesterday for assaulting another negro, Mollie Williams, and was fined $7 50 therefor.

Mr. Seabold Poland arrested several dogs yesterday without the requisite tag. Scarce a dog was to be seen on Main street yesterday. Sagacious animals.

Our citizens must not forget that the New Albany prophet has fixed the 10th day of July for the final winding up of this terrestrial machine. We give this reminder for the benefit of those who have not yet squared accounts.

The County Commissioners yesterday allowed a large number of accounts. Fourteen licenses to retail liquor were granted. The usual fees for the judges and inspectors of elections were also allowed. The business was not of general interest.

The Committee of Arrangements for the Masonic Picnic is composed of the most energetic men in the order, and they are actively engaged in doing all that can be done to make it a success, which it will undoubtedly be in all respects.

The residence of Mrs. Binckley, at the corner of Upper Main and Vincennes streets, was robbed of $12 in money and clothing to the same amount, about 5 o'clock, yesterday morning. A lot of suspicious-looking characters have been in the city for some time. The police have been watching them.

Yesterday morning Officer William Lansford and Andrew McBarron arrested, at the corner of Market and State streets, John Miller alias James Muller, against whom strong suspicions rest as being the thief who burglarized the Commercial Hotel on Tuesday last. His right name is supposed to be Bob. Bruce.

Judge George A. Bicknell, of the Floyd Circuit Court, yesterday morning rendered his decision on the petition for an injunction by the Trustees of Clarksville, Clark county, against the Jeffersonville and Madison and Indianapolis railroad, and decided it adversely to the petitioners. It will be remembered a statement of the dispute between the two corporations was given in these columns several weeks ago.

The matinee in the Music Hall, given yesterday afternoon by the music classes of Misses Baldwin, Warren, and Sabin, was attended by a large and select audience. The arrangement of the children in about a dozen tiers, one above the other, as if sitting on a broad flight of steps, was well conceived and had a beautiful scenic effect. The singing by the members of the different classes was sweet and melodious, reflecting credit alike on teachers and scholars.

The following composition on "sugar," which was indited in a plain, legible hand, shows an attempt of a young idea to shoot. It was picked up on the street, and is bona fide. On the back it was marked "Composition." It reads as follows: "Sugar is a very useful article, and is made to put in tea and coffee, and is used to put in fruit and it is made from sugar cane. I like sugar and I think it is very good. I like the maple sugar the best. M."

We are requested to state that Capt. L. Barney, the "old reliable," is still connected with the agency of the Pan Handle route in this city.

Cincinnati is devising ways and means to bring out a full vote upon the Southern railroad question on the 26th inst. Various committees have been appointed for that purpose.

The Indianapolis and Vincennes railroad was completed to Edwardsport, on White river, Thursday. About forty miles of track are yet to be laid.

The passenger earnings of the St. Louis and Indianapolis railroad for May show an increase of $37,000 over the corresponding period of last year.

The Silver Palace car Magnolia, in charge of Conductor Ford, will leave Jeffersonville at 9:50 A. M. to-day and go through to New York without change.

On Sunday a Silver Palace car will leave Jeffersonville at 2:30 P. M. and go through to New York without change, via the Pan-Handle route.

Owing to some delay on the New Orleans, Jackson, and Great Western railroad, the northward-bound train failed to make connections at Canton, Miss. The delayed passengers arrived here on the 10:30 train last night.

The through passengers on the Evansville and Crawfordsville railroad for the past year only yielded a gross revenue of $42,300, or less than four hundred dollars per mile of the 109 miles of road which they were carried over.

The eastern travel over the East Tennessee and Georgia, and East Tennessee and Virginia railways, is constantly increasing. The passengers are mostly from New Orleans and Texas.

The Savannah (Ga.) News says: "Sharp and Quick" Hulbert is arranging a schedule via Louisville, Ky., and the Pennsylvania Central, by which the trip will be made in fifty-seven hours from Atlanta to New York, with one change of cars only at Louisville."

Arrangements are being made to establish a new passenger route from Chicago to St. Louis via the Vandalia and Illinois Central railroad. The road will intersect at Effingham. The running time of the new route will be 10 hours, and the fare is to be reduced.

The Paducah Herald of the 8th says: The extension of the Paducah and Gulf railroad to Troy station, Tennessee, will be finished to-day, and in a few days our cars will be running through to Jackson, Tennessee, where they will make close connection with the Mississippi Central road to New Orleans.

The Ohio and Southern Railroad Company—capital $2,500,000—has been incorporated at Columbus, Ohio. The northern terminus of the proposed road is to be at Newark, Ohio, and the southern on the Ohio river, opposite Maysville, Ky. It is proposed to connect this road with the Maysville and Lexington railroad, now in course of construction.

The Paducah Kentuckian, under the head of freight tariffs, says: "In addition to the information we gave of the action of the late convention of railroad men at Humboldt, we learn further that the convention is to reassemble soon at Paducah to make through passenger arrangements and put tickets on sale via this line to all points West and North."

The railroad law of Indiana requires, as preliminary to the organization of a railroad company, an actual bona fide subscription of $50,000. The citizens of Lafayette have already subscribed over the necessary amount to the stock of the Lafayette, Anderson, and Bloomington (Illinois) railroad to secure its organization, and it is expected the stock subscriptions will be swelled to $150,000.

The recent commercial conventions of Memphis and New Orleans passed resolutions in favor of constructing a direct line along the route near the thirty-second parallel, from a South Atlantic port to the Pacific, and likewise in favor of the Memphis and El Paso route as a more northern prolongation of the same line. We learn from the Baltimore Gazette, that advices as late as the 20th of May last have been received from General Fremont, who was then in Paris, stating that ten millions of the first mortgage bonds of the Memphis and El Paso road have already been sold in the Paris bourse at $79 in gold, which is equal to $112 in currency.

Wm. Neirth is sueing the Indianapolis and Cincinnati railroad in the Court of Common Pleas at Cincinnati for damages. The plaintiff was injured in August, 1864, while driving along the road east of Delhi Station, at a point where the road was near the railroad, and where there is a precipice on the opposite side of the road. A train coming along frightened the horses; they plunged over the precipice, and the wagon tumbled on the plaintiff, breaking his thigh and arm. He claims that the railroad company were bound to keep up a barrier along this precipice, and that the engineer was negligent in not giving any signal. This is the second trial allowed by the statute. The first trial resulted in a verdict for the plaintiff of $6,000.

At an election held in Owensboro, on Monday last, for a directory of the Owensboro and Russellville railroad, to serve for the term of one year, the following gentlemen were selected: Messrs. James Weir, Camden Riley, Daniel M. Griffith, S. D. Kennedy, R. H. Taylor, S. M. Wing, and J. W. Belt. Total number of votes cast, 15,820. At a meeting of the new board of directors, held on Tuesday, the following officers were re-elected for the ensuing year: James Weir, President; A. L. Ashby, Secretary and Collector; W. B. Tyler, Treasurer; J. W. Belt, Collector of the private subscribed stock of the Livermore precinct. A vacancy being made in the board by the re-election of James Weir, Esq., as President, Dr. W. A. Hickman was chosen to fill the vacancy.

Articles of association were filed in the office of the Secretary of State of Indiana, Wednesday, of the Evansville, Carmi and Paducah Railroad Company, with a capital stock of $1,000,000. The road is to run from Evansville, through Carmi, White county, Illinois, to a point on the Ohio river opposite Paducah, and will traverse the counties of Vanderburgh and Posey, in Indiana, White, Gallatin, Saline, Hardin, Pope and Massac, in Illinois. The length of the Indiana division will be twenty-five, and that of the Illinois division sixty miles, making eighty-five miles in all. Articles were also filed of the Indiana and Illinois Commercial Railroad, with a capital stock of $56,000. The road is thirty-two miles long, running from the town of Worthington, Greene county, where it intersects the Indianapolis and Vincennes Railroad, to the east shore of the Wabash river, where it connects with a road to run direct to St. Louis.

A Germantown correspondent of the Maysville Bulletin says: "It will surprise you perhaps to hear that this end of Mason and all the middle and south of Bracken are seriously in earnest about building a railroad from Maysville via Germantown and Brooksville, through Bracken and the south part of Pendleton, to strike the Kentucky Central, at or near Falmouth, and crossing the latter road meeting the Louisville and Cincinnati Railroad some fifteen or twenty miles back of Covington. This route, it is thought, will be the cheapest and best, being about twenty-two miles from Maysville to the Kentucky Central, and running through a wealthy section of the country and along the ridge almost the whole length. They propose to hold a mass meeting in Germantown, on Saturday, the 19th of June, to take into consideration the means and measures necessary to the early beginning and speedy completion of the railroad."

The Memphis Appeal of the 10th says the directors of the Memphis and Selma railroad have received the following truly gratifying letter from General N. B. Forrest, dated Marion, Alabama, June 2, 1869:

"I have just returned from a visit to the Governor of this State, and have satisfactorily arranged everything on this end of the line as to money and matters generally. I am now ready to let out fifty miles of this end of the line, with money to pay for the work as fast as done. I am getting along finely and will commence laying iron by the first of July in the direction of your city and my home. Columbus has subscribed one hundred thousand dollars, and Aberdeen the same amount. Lowndes county will subscribe one hundred and fifty thousand dollars, and Monroe the same. Will Memphis ever make up? If so, it is high time she was up and doing. I will next apply to Pontotoc and Marshall counties for one hundred thousand dollars each. Memphis and Shelby county can and ought to subscribe to this road equivalent to 500,000 dollars in cash. Will she do so? or will she sit still and see her trade drawn from her to St. Louis and Louisville as it is now fast being done? I hope not. I am succeeding far beyond my most sanguine expectations. Do all in your power to stir up the people and bring them to a knowledge of their position before all is lost to Memphis commercially."

Card from Yoder Poignand, Esq.

[To the Editor of the Courier-Journal.]

ROCK SPRING WATER CURE,
PEWEE VALLEY, KY., June 10, 1869.

A call, signed by many of the representative citizens of the Senatorial district composed of the counties of Shelby, Spencer, and Nelson, asking me to become a candidate for the Senate, was published in your columns about a month since, and a few days subsequent I was announced as a candidate in your paper and the Shelby Sentinel.

At the time I had just come to this place, seeking relief from a severe attack of rheumatism, from which I had for some time been a sufferer, and I hoped that my health would be restored speedily and in time to allow me to make the canvass; but in this I have been disappointed, for, though much benefited and improved, I am yet too great an invalid to undertake such a labor.

Knowing that many of my friends still suppose me to be a candidate, I take this method to make it known that I have withdrawn and to express to them my grateful thanks for their kindness.

YODER POIGNAND.

The Chamberlin Laudanum Case.

[To the Editor of the Courier-Journal.]

I wish to correct a statement made in your columns of yesterday's issue, in regard to my taking "poison." I did not take laudanum with a view of self-destruction—by no means, but merely to alleviate pains caused by neuralgia, from which I had been suffering for several days past. Having discovered that I had taken too great a quantity, I immediately had Dr. Goodman summoned, who administered remedies which soon counteracted the effects, and am now happy to state that I am almost convalescent. By giving the above publication in your paper, you will much oblige. E. C. CHAMBERLIN.

Mr. Chamberlin is mistaken. The COURIER-JOURNAL did not state that he had taken laudanum with a view to self-destruction.

THE CITY.

Local.

For additional local matter, see first page.

Horticulture.

This morning the second exhibition this season of the Kentucky Horticultural Society will take place in Masonic Temple.

The Rankin's Point Catastrophe.

The bodies of five of the seven persons drowned at Rankin's Point, on the 6th, have been recovered. The body of one of the young ladies was recovered on Wednesday.

Flying the Rag.

The covering over the cistern on the corner of Main and Fourth streets is sadly out of repair, and teamsters were yesterday warned of it by the erection of a staff with a rag upon it, as a signal of danger.

Theft.

Mollie McCoy and Sallie Snyder, two women of evil repute, who reside on Rue Lafayette, were taken to the First-street station-house last night by officers Cross and McDonald for filching property worth less than four dollars.

A Triangular Fight.

Three Germans, who were interested in a little suit that was tried before 'Squire Doane yesterday, became involved in a little fight on the corner of Market and Hancock streets after the trial. There was a good audience, but it was a poor show.

New Music.

We have received from D. P. Faulds, of Main street, the "Morning Star Schottish," by W. L. Averill, and the Schottish of the "Galt House Collection," by Walter Owens, just published. Both have pretty title pages.

Grand Larceny, etc.

A negro man named John Williams was put in the Clay-street station-house yesterday by officers Goodnight and Wyler for purloining goods valued at more than four dollars. The same officers incarcerated Philip Nunnemacher in the same institution, by authority of a peace warrant.

Bankruptcy Notice.

Thomas M. Eginton, Register, will hold courts in Bankruptcy as follows:
Lexington, Monday, June 14th, 1869.
Harrodsburg, Wednesday, June 16th, 1869.
Danville, Thursday, June 17th, 1869.
Stanford, Thursday, June 17th, 1869—3 o'clock P. M.

A Waiting Fortune.

Thirty-five years ago a man named Andrew Dennison left Pittsburg and came to Kentucky to live. Recently, a fortune has fallen to him through the death of a relative, and now Andrew cannot be found to claim it. Capt. Hacker, of this city, is said to have charge of the bequeathed funds.

Civil Rights on the Italian.

Peter Dolfingo, an Italian, was arrested yesterday by Special Bailiff Henry Diven, and was taken before United States Commissioner Ballard, on the charge of assaulting a negro named George Mitchell. After a hearing, the prisoner gave bail in $500 for his appearance before the United States Court.

Accepted.

We are authorized to say that Mr. Frank Rose accepts the challenge of James J. Horton, champion oarsman of the Western waters, published yesterday morning, and appoints as a place of meeting Tony Martin's, Water street, between Third and Fourth; time, from ten to eleven o'clock A. M. to-day.

Family Matters.

A Mrs. Kolligan was arrested yesterday by Officer Krakel for inhumanly beating her son Henry, a boy ten years of age, and for hitting her husband with a brick for interfering in behalf of the child. The husband bled profusely from the wound inflicted by the missile. Mrs. K. was presented in the City Court, but the case was continued until this morning.

A Mistake.

In a local paragraph yesterday morning it was stated that while the city bonds issued for the Elizabethtown and Paducah railroad met with ready sale in New York and Philadelphia at 85 cents, they sold here at less than 80 cents. From reliable authority we learn that the latter statement is incorrect, and that not a city bond issued for this road has ever been sold in Louisville for less than 85 cents and accrued interest.

Appointment.

Hon. Boyd Winchester, M. C. from this district, has recommended to the Secretary of War the name of Edward E. Harding, of this city, as cadet at West Point. This appointment is a most excellent one, and will give general satisfaction, the fortunate young gentleman being a son of the late Dr. John Hardin, and a youth of most excellent character and habits, who will show himself worthy of the honor conferred on him.

Condition of the Southern Presbyterian Church.

Rev. Stuart Robinson will preach to-morrow morning, at 11 o'clock A. M., at the Second Presbyterian church to the united congregations of the First and Second Presbyterian churches on the present condition of the Southern church as exhibited at the Mobile Assembly, and at 8 o'clock P. M. he will lecture in the First Presbyterian church on the Gospel History. The public are invited.

Serious Accident.

Yesterday morning a negro man named Jacob, in the employ of Mr. Ullman, who cultivates a small farm on the Dunkirk road, in the Western suburbs of the city, met with a serious accident. As Jacob was riding a harnessed horse to the field, the animal became frightened and threw him. In his fall a trace chain became wrapped around his left leg, and the horse running away his rider was dragged nearly two squares. The flesh on Jacob's leg was frightfully lacerated. His surgeon thinks that if he can have care amputation will not be necessary.

Truman, the Boy Mail-Robber.

In the United States Court yesterday, Jesse M. Truman, the young man charged with robbing the mail between Elizabethtown and Litchfield, pleaded guilty, and in a letter to Judge Ballard, containing his full confession, he implicated two postmasters as concerned with him in the robbing. His statement with reference to the postmasters is not believed, and there is not the slightest evidence against them, except from his improbable story. Truman, it is said, will not be sixteen years of age until September next, and it is thought Judge Ballard will send him to the House of Refuge.

The Great Financial Debate.

According to previous announcement, Dr. O. S. Leavitt will address the citizens of Louisville this evening at the Court-house, upon the absorbing topic of the "financial policy of the Government," in which address the subject of National money matters, embracing bonds, gold, and currency in general, will be duly and logically considered. Hon. Boyd Winchester, whose views upon the National finances, we are informed, do not accord with those entertained by the Doctor, has been invited to be present. The speaker's stand will be on the steps at the south side of the Court-house, fronting the Willard Hotel.

Robbing the Mail Boxes.

We have to chronicle the advent of a new sensation in our city this morning. There is a man in the city who has a key to the letter boxes. Rumor says he has opened several and plundered them of their contents. A young lady saw him at one yesterday on the corner of Floyd and Gray streets, and seeing that he wore no uniform or badge, rebuked him for the crime. He paid little or no attention to her remarks, but told her that she was "Dutch." She replied that if she were a negro, she would have a right to complain of a robber. The Metropolitans are searching for the man. In the meantime, our moneyed fellow-citizens will do well to remember that the boxes are "not for valuable letters."

Personal.

It will be seen by his card in another column, that, on account of his ill health, Yoder Poignand, Esq., of Spencer, withdraws from the canvass for Senator in that district. Mr. P. has been for several weeks at Dr. Caspari's Water-cure in Pewee Valley, and, we are glad to hear, is gradually recovering from a very violent and painful attack of rheumatism.

Mr. John I. Walker is announced this morning as a candidate for Police Commissioner. He is an excellent gentleman, a man of energy and efficient, and has all the qualities necessary to make him an efficient officer.

Col. Joseph Hodgson, of the Montgomery (Ala.) Mail, is in the city, on business connected with that flourishing paper.

LOUISVILLE FEMALE SEMINARY.

The Commencement Exercises at Weisiger Hall.

The eighteenth anniversary of the Louisville Female Seminary, more familiarly known as Mrs. Nold's school, was celebrated at Weisiger Hall last night. The audience was select, none being admitted who could not present cards of invitation at the door. The hall was crowded to its utmost capacity, both upstairs and down.

The programme was a very entertaining one, consisting of the essays of the graduates and many choice selections of classical music.

Two young ladies were graduated, Miss Mollie VanBuren and Miss Minnie McCullough. Their compositions were unusually beautiful and finished and were read in a loud and distinct tone of voice, so as to be heard without difficulty by the entire audience. Indeed the veriest critic could find but little fault with their reading. The valedictory by Miss VanBuren was something out of the ordinary run of school essays. Her elocution equaled anything we have ever heard from any one on the stage or off. The essay will be published entire in a day or two.

The salutatory was something new, although the fair author said it was "nothing new." It was well conceived and happily expressed, eliciting from the audience several bursts of well-deserved applause.

The musical part of the programme was ample, and, as we said, consisted of selections of a high order. Its rendition was excellent, and implied some master hand, though we know not whose, in its preparation. Among the pretty singers that particularly distinguished themselves we may mention Misses Mollie Van Buren, Lizzie Pelle, (French), Hettie Gilmore, and Miriam Brannin. The audience was favored with the "Shadow Song," by Miss Fannie Nold. She was greeted with loud applause on advancing to the front of the stage. She rendered that intricate piece of music admirably, doing full justice to her reputation as an accomplished and talented vocalist.

The presentation of diplomas was made by Rev. W. H. Platt, in a few terse and eloquent remarks.

The entertainment was closed with "Gloria in Excelsis," by the whole school.

Mrs. Nold's is one of the oldest and most thorough female seminaries in Louisville. During the past session it contained one hundred and thirty pupils, forty of whom were from abroad and boarded in the institution. The exercises last evening were highly creditable to the school and the excellent lady who presides over it.

"THEM TICKETS."

ANOTHER ROW ON THE MARKET STREET ROAD.

A Lady Knocked Senseless by a Flying Missile.

Last evening, a few minutes before 8 o'clock, a man got into car No. 2, on the Market street road, which car was going east. He deposited a ticket in the box, and the driver refused to accept it for fare. As usual under such circumstances, there was a considerable amount of discussion, induced by the demands of one, and the determined refusal of the other. They quarreled a distance of three or four squares, and, finally, as the car approached Clay street, the passenger rang the bell, wishing to get out. The driver did not obey the signal on the instant, and the excited bell-ringer grasped the strap and jerked it rapidly and violently until a stop was made, which was not effected until about one-fifth of the distance of the square above Clay street had been traveled. When the car had ceased to move, the driver told the misguided individual to get ashore—to be quick about it—and never to get upon another car running on the Market-street road, unless he was gentleman enough to comply with the rules, and pay his fare in money. The man lost no time in getting to terra firma, and as soon as he was on the ground he began to look for a rock. He soon found one of considerable size, which he hurled with all his strength at the driver. His aim was not good, and instead of the driver, he struck Mrs. Cyrene Smith, a well-known doctress of this city, somewhat famous as the inventor of the "Abdominal Corset and Supporter for females." The blow was so violent that Mrs. Smith fell senseless to the floor of the car, bleeding profusely from a wound in the forehead, just above the right eye. After this occurrence, some gentlemen in the car got out and tried to catch the party who threw the missile, but he fled and was not overtaken by his pursuers. The police force were searching for him at a late hour last night, but up to 11 o'clock had not found him.

The car was driven up to the next corner, and the unfortunate woman was removed to the drug store of Stanley Brown, corner of Market and Shelby, where her wound was dressed by Dr. Brown, the druggist's father. The patient was weak from the loss of blood and the shock she had received, but, after the administration of a mild stimulant and some rest, she was sufficiently restored to go to her home, which is at 470 West Market, between Twelfth and Thirteenth streets.

THE FIRE THIS MORNING.

Narrow Escape of a Woman and Child.

At fifteen minutes past one o'clock this morning fire was discovered issuing from the back portion of the roof of the two story brick building No. 180 Market street, near Fifth, occupied by Charles Wirtz (or Wiltz) as a saloon and residence, and by policeman Henry Harlow as a green grocery and residence, the residences being both in the second story. The flames were first seen by Mr. Henry C. Price and another gentleman whose name we did not learn. They immediately gave the alarm and hastened to the burning structure. Mr. Wirtz was not in his residence at the time, and his wife and child were the only persons in he portion of the building which he rented. When Mr. Price and his companions reached the second story, they found Mrs. Wirtz running frantically about with her child, apparently not knowing which way to turn to avoid the flames and blinding smoke. Mr. Price snatched up the child, passed it to the other gentlemen, who carried it out to the street, and he then hurried Mrs. Wirtz out of the building.

The Fire Department quickly subdued the fierce element, so that it reached no other buildings. A quantity of bedding was thrown out of the windows and saved. The loss in the second story could not have been great.

The saloon was known as Bismark Hall, and had been occupied by Mr. Wirtz only about three months. His stock was insured for $1,000, in the Germania Insurance Company, which will cover his loss in case some money and papers which he said he had in the building were not consumed.

Mr. Harlow's green grocery suffered little or no damage. The origin of the fire could not be ascertained, and it was the opinion of the Chief of the Fire Department that it was the result of incendiarism.

The building was owned by Capt. Henry O'Neill, and was insured, though for what amount and in what company he did not remember.

THE STUDY OF GERMAN.

Interesting Examination in the Seventh Ward School Yesterday.

Yesterday the German committee of the public schools concluded the public examinations in German by an examination of the German pupils of the Seventh ward, under the charge of Prof. Joseph Cohen.

During the forenoon the various grades were examined by the committee, and evinced a proficiency in this study highly creditable to scholars and teachers. The examinations throughout the city show a progress far beyond that of any preceding year. There are fifty per cent. more children engaged in the study, and of this increase American children comprise a large part. This feature is particularly marked in the Seventh ward school. There German was begun only one year ago. Of the children engaged in the study, some two hundred and twenty in number, about three-fourths are of American and one-fourth of German parentage. It must be gratifying to our German people to witness the interest thus taken in their language by the native citizens of the central wards of the city. In the afternoon there was a more attractive feature in this study in an exhibition, by some of the pupils, of their proficiency and interest in declamations, readings, and singing. The exercises were full of pleasing interest, and were such that American and German could enjoy them alike. The large and appreciative audience went away, we think, convinced that German instruction in the Seventh-ward school has been, on one year's trial, a complete success. The elements of an excellent teacher are to be seen in Prof. Cohen's management of the examination and exhibition. We must not, however, omit to mention that this interest in German is in some measure due to the fact that the trustees of the ward, Drs. Scott and Robinson, are also members of the German Committee.

The exercises of the occasion, after a few appropriate remarks by President Morris and Rev. Dr. Kleeberg, were concluded by the singing of a beautiful German song, by three charming little girls, in parts, and in full chorus by a class full of intelligence and beauty.

THE GRAND COMMANDERY.

Its Recent Session at Lexington—The Annual Address—The Officers Elected—Installations, etc.

The Grand Commandery of Knights Templar convened at Lexington Thursday, 10th inst., at 11 o'clock. There was a large attendance of delegates from the subordinate commanderies from all parts of the State. Louisville Commandery No. 1, and DeMolay Commandery No. 12, from Louisville, and the Commanderies of Covington, Newport, Maysville, Georgetown and Lexington were largely represented. The annual address by Rt. Em. Sir Rev. John M. Worrall, Grand Commander, was delivered at the opening of the session, after which the annual election of officers took place, and resulted as follows:

Rt. Em. Sir John M. Worrall, of Covington, Grand Commander.
V. Em. Sir Wm. A. Warner, of Louisville, Deputy Grand Commander.
Em. Sir H. M. Smith, of Maysville, Grand Generalissimo.
Em. Sir W. H. Warren, of Lexington, Grand Captain General.
Em. Sir Rev. —— Merrick, of Lexington, Grand Prelate.
Em. Sir Henry Bostwick, of Covington, Grand Senior Warden.
Em. Sir Richard G. Hawkins, of Louisville, Grand Junior Warden.
Em. Sir David P. Robb, of Versailles, Grand Treasurer.
Em. Sir Wm. C. Munger, of Louisville, Grand Recorder.
Em. Sir Wm. Ryan, of Louisville, Grand Standard-bearer.
Em. Sir —— Wolfe, of Georgetown, Grand Sword Bearer.
Em. Sir George F. Evans, of Louisville, Grand Warden.
Em. Sir Henry Hudson, of Louisville, Grand Captain of Guard.

A public installation of the Grand Officers was held at the large exhibition hall in the Odd Fellows' buildings. An appropriate address was delivered by Sir Rev. Dr. Seely, of Frankfort, after which the Grand Officers and visiting Sir Knights, together with their wives and daughters, were entertained at the Phoenix Hotel with a sumptuous banquet given in their honor by Webb Commandery No. 2, of Lexington. During the session of the Grand Commandery, the Templars visited the Clay Monument and the Lunatic Asylum in full dress. We are glad to learn that the next annual conclave will be held in Louisville, and we know the Sir Knights here will give their visitors a hearty and generous welcome.

A CADET BALL.

The Virginia Military Institute.

We have the pleasure of acknowledging the receipt of an invitation to attend the grand ball to be given to the graduating class of the Virginia Military Institute, in Lexington, Va., on the 2d of July next, at the hall of the Institute. CITY FEATURES.

Dr. James C. Kerr's Great System Renovator.

Such is the title of a medicine that has been before the public for but little over a year, but whose popularity has increased with such rapidity that it bids fair to become the great medicine of the age. The originator of it, Dr. James C. Kerr, has manufactured it for over thirty years for his own use and to give away to his friends, but it was not until a short time ago that he was persuaded to place it before the public. The manufactory is in Cincinnati, and upon the genuine merits of the medicine itself its sale is rapidly becoming universal. By reference to the advertisement of the medicine in our medical columns, it will be seen that it has received the very highest indorsement from many of the most prominent citizens of Cincinnati, the Legislature of Ohio, and others. As a blood purifier and general corrective of the system, it is declared to be without an equal. Read the advertisement.

Ho! for Boston.

The old reliable Little Miami Railway Company, to accommodate visitors to the National Peace Jubilee at Boston, is selling through tickets at reduced rates, via the palatial steamers of the mail line and the Little Miami and Cleveland, Cincinnati and Columbus and New York Central railroads, via Columbus, Cleveland, Albany and Buffalo. Passengers by this route arrive in Boston in advance of all other lines, and by this route alone have the privilege of visiting free the world's great wonder, Niagara Falls. This route is the favorite one, and a number of tickets have already been sold. Col. Sid. B. Jones and R. E. Murray are the popular agents of the line, who will take pleasure in imparting any desired information.

The National Peace Jubilee.

The Erie and Atlantic and Great Western Railway are selling through tickets to Boston from Cincinnati at $25. By this route there is only one change, and that at New York city, and it is accomplished without a disagreeable transfer, as the steamers of the Fall River and New York Lines land at the Erie Railway depot. This is the only line by which passengers have the privilege of visiting New York city. The road is a magnificent one, and the scenery along the route is grand beyond description. Mr. J. Kilkeny is the agent for this city, and will cheerfully give all necessary information.

Henderson Land Sale.

The enterprise known as the Henderson Land Sale is daily growing in popular favor, and the certificates are selling rapidly. The fairness of the scheme is indisputable, guarded as it is by legislative enactment. The property to be disposed of is well known by many of our best citizens who know its value. Enough tickets have been sold to insure the success of the scheme, and it is highly probable that the drawing will take place earlier than was anticipated. See advertisement for particulars.

Dedicatory Services.

Rev. S. L. Helm, D. D., will preach at Pilgrim Baptist Church, on Cabell street, north of Main, on Sunday, the 13th inst., at 11 o'clock A. M.; and at 4 o'clock P. M. will preach the dedicatory sermon. All are invited. At the East Baptist Church at 8 P. M.

THE MALE HIGH SCHOOL.

Public Oral Examination Yesterday.

The annual public oral examination of the Male High School took place yesterday. The exercises were held in the chapel, which was occupied by a large number of the friends and patrons of the school.

The examinations were commenced at 9 o'clock in the morning, and continued till about half-past one in the day, being interspersed with declamations by John Rubel, Edward Crutcher, John Stewart, Edward Ramsey, and John Polk, which were no inconsiderate or unpleasant diversions from the recitations.

The exercises were commenced with an examination of the first division of the class in German by Prof. Friendling. The preparatory class was then examined by Prof. Barton in Latin and algebra. The answers were prompt and generally correct. Prof. Butler then took the freshmen class and put it through a rough and vigorous course of algebra and geometry.

The most satisfactory examination of the day was that of the freshman class, by Prof. Schenk, who occupies the chair of ancient languages. It showed that the class had not only been brought up to the standard required by the rules, but in many cases beyond. The members of this class first translated Xenophon from the Greek into the English, and then from the English into the Latin, evincing great aptness and proficiency. This is something extraordinary for the freshmen, and speaks well for the diligence and efficiency of Professor Schenk. This examination was chiefly conducted by Prof. Chase, of the Female High School.

The Sophomore class was put through an extended and gratifying examination in natural science by Prof. Murch. The few experiments were made by the students in a manner showing a perfect familiarity with the instruments.

Then followed successively inquisitions of the junior and senior classes in Latin by Prof. Schenk, and the junior class in history and rhetoric by the Principal, Prof. McDonald. All gave general satisfaction.

A number of Trustees were present, including the President of the board, all of whom assisted at times in the questionings.

Owing to a disagreement of the faculty in regard to the status of several of the graduates, and the non-action of the Board of School Trustees at its last meeting, we are unable to give the names of those who will receive diplomas at the commencement, which takes place at Weisiger Hall on the 30th inst.

It was regretted by many that the ample museum connected with this institution was not thrown open to the visitors. It is one of the finest collections of curiosities in the State.

The exercises yesterday proved the Male High School to be in a more prosperous and healthy condition than for many years past. The confidence of the public in it for some years has been growing more and more feeble, but under the supervision of Prof. McDonald it has, we are pleased to state, commenced a new era of prosperity.

AMUSEMENTS.

Esther.

The sale of tickets for the grand Oratorio of Esther is almost unprecedented. The musical people and the unmusical people, all must see Esther. The first representation will take place this afternoon, being mostly for the benefit of the pupils of the different missionary Sabbath-schools of the city, only three hundred tickets being sold to other persons. The grand inaugural, however, will be on Monday evening. The following is the cast of characters which exhibits some well known and highly reputed amateur talent of our city:

Esther, the Queen—Miss Patty McDonald.
Ahasuerus, King of Persia and Media—Prof. Foote.
Haman, Overseer of the Realm—Mr. O. O. Holt.
Zeresh, Haman's wife—Miss Sallie Foote.
Mordecai—Mr. N. Rodgers.
Queen's Maids of Honor—Miss Sallie Downing and Mrs. John Davis.
High Priest—Prof. Green H. Anderson.
Zeresh's Maid's of Honor—Misses Jennie Matlack and Annie B. Cox.
Chamberlain—Mr. J. C. Moseley.
Harbonah—Mr. Charles H. Moseley.
Prophetess—Mrs. James M. Floyd.
Leader of Jew Choruses—Mr. J. L. Smyser.
Messengers, Maids of Honor, Grand Choruses, Quartettes, &c., &c.

There will be only three representations of this great piece in Louisville, and those who intend going should secure seats before it is too late.

Concert for the Benefit of Shelby-street Church.

The members of the Shelby-street M. E. church, together with a number of talented amateur musicians, who have volunteered their services, will give a vocal and instrumental concert at Templars' Hall, corner of Main and Clay streets, on the evening of the 22d of June. The proceeds will be devoted to the benefit of the church.

In your issue of the 11th we see a challenge issued by James J. Horton to row any man for $500 to $1,000, etc., etc. We will meet the gentleman at Frederick Braun's, No. 17 West Market street, between First and Second, this (Saturday) evening at 7½ o'clock.

Card from John I. Walker.

[To the Editor of the Courier-Journal.]

A few weeks since there appeared in one of your issues a call upon me to become a candidate for Police Commissioner at the ensuing August election, and, having consulted the desires of many of my personal friends, who insist upon my making the race, I hereby authorize you to announce me as a candidate.

Yours truly, JOHN I. WALKER.

LeClaire No. 2, city wharf. Gray Eagle, Shippingport.

The river continues to recede slowly at this point, with 7 feet 3 inches water in the canal, 5 feet 3 inches water in the chute, and 4 feet 3 inches water on the rocks last evening, a fall of 4 inches since our last report. Weather clear and warm. Business very dull.

The Tarascon is the mail packet for Henderson at 5 P. M. to-day from the Portland wharf.

The Dove No. 2 will depart for Kentucky river at 2 P. M. to-day from the city wharf.

The popular passenger steamer LeClaire No. 2, Capt. Milt. Akin master, will leave for Tennessee river at 5 P. M. to-day, from the city wharf.

The P. W. Strader will pass down for New Orleans at 10 A. M. to-day. Alex. Stuart will take charge of the office at this point.

The Spray, from Cincinnati to Nashville, added 50 tons of miscellaneous freight here and 200 barrels of cement at Jeffersonville, yesterday.

The chimneys of the Ben. Franklin, the new Mail Line packet, were being put up yesterday. She will be ready for business about the 25th of the present month.

A negro stole several table-cloths from the Bermuda, lying at the wharf, yesterday. Capt. Ike Shultz, who is a noted foot racer, gave chase, and overhauled the thief and handed him over to the police.

We are authorized to state that Frank Rose, of this city, accepts the challenge of Jas. J. Horton, for a boat race over the Louisville course for $500 or $1,000, and the man and money will be ready at Toney Martin's, on the levee, at 10 A. M. to-day.

Capt. Philip Hocker, of this city, has received a letter from Pittsburg, making inquiries for Andrew Denison, a pilot, who left Pittsburg thirty or thirty-five years ago, and up to a few years ago was living in this State. By the decease of his father in Pittsburg a large amount of money is left unclaimed, and Denison is the only known heir.

The Belle Lee was yesterday attached at the suit of her builders, seventeen in number, in the Chancery Court. The amount involved is $113,000. She cost $168,000.

By letter from Captain J. L. Shallcross, agent of the underwriters of this city, we learn that seventy-five tons of the freight of the Cora S have been forwarded to the consignees by the steamer Ozark, and that seventy-five tons still remain at Fletcher's landing. The freight is in much better condition than was expected. The Cora S passed up yesterday for Cincinnati. Capt. Shallcross will visit the wreck of the G. A. Thompson.

The Grey Eagle arrived from New Orleans yesterday with a cargo of scrap iron, potatoes, &c. Her crew "jumped" upon her arrival at this port, and a new crew had to be employed to discharge her. She will be laid up at Shippingport and dismantled, and her machinery and cabin put on Capt. Kenan's new Grand Era, which is being built at Barmore's ship yard, Jeffersonville.

A special dispatch brings us the painful intelligence of the death of Mr. Richard W. Hutchinson, late clerk of the steamer Morning Star. He had been ill for some months, and until recently it was thought that he would recover. He had been connected with the line for some years, and was extensively known. A more genial, upright, and honorable gentleman than Dick Hutchinson never trod the deck of a steamboat. Peace to his ashes.

The Leonora was tied up at Memphis Tuesday at the suit of the steward, to whom it is alleged she owes $200.

The Belle Lee was pulled off the bank, where she had been left by the receding river Thursday night, by the ferryboat Thomas Connor without injury.

The ram Vindicator is about to be purchased by the Wiggins Ferry Company, who will at once alter and adapt her to the carrying of freight across the Mississippi at St. Louis, in connection with the railroads in Illinois and Missouri. This enterprise is a parallel to the Dunleith, which will operate very similarly a few rods further up the river.

From Our Exchanges.

The Vevay Democrat says:

Why is it that Louisville merchants do not establish a line of packets from that point to Vevay? More freight is shipped south from Vevay than from any three points between Louisville and Cincinnati. Had the merchants of the former city one-fourth the energy of those of the latter, Louisville might receive a vast amount of trade that Cincinnati energy has turned from the natural channel. But the roar of nature's invitation to thriftiness and prosperity seems to have deafened the drones of the Falls City.

The Cincinnati Gazette of yesterday says:

A dispatch received here yesterday from Pittsburg says: It was reported here this forenoon that the steamer Lawrence, for Cincinnati, which departed yesterday afternoon, had sprung some of her bottom planks and was leaking badly, but we could hear nothing definite in regard to the matter.

The St. Louis Democrat of Thursday says:

Captain Sam. Montgomery, Old Blucher of the river, backed out the Dexter about six o'clock yesterday morning for New Albany.

Captain Poe backed out the Nick Wall last evening for Fort Benton—her second trip, the first attempt being frustrated by a snag, from the injuries sustained by which she has entirely recovered. Captain Poe wants to make the run in thirty-three days. Whether he goes through in that time or not, we are satisfied he will make good time. C. W. Blount and George Hughes are her pilots. The Nick Wall is drawing only 27 inches, having taken a limited freight here. She has a full cargo engaged at Omaha, through John N. Bofinger and other parties. It is rather curious that the Nick gets six and a half per cent. per pound on her freight to Benton, with a surety of good water all the way, while the boats which preceded her were loaded at much lower rates, and have suffered from low water. Some of her freight is for forts on the way, and are regular rates.

Monetary and Commercial.

OFFICE OF THE LOUISVILLE COURIER-JOURNAL,
FRIDAY EVENING, June 11, 1869.

The money market is getting to be in a pretty comfortable condition, and although some complaint is heard that money cannot be borrowed at reasonable rates the complaint is generally made by parties who do not offer good paper, and none other than proverbially prompt names are taken at any price—9@12 per cent. being the ruling rates.

EXCHANGE is a little more abundant than it was yesterday. Some purchases were made at 1-5c discount, but the ruling rate was 1-10c discount buying and selling at par; but for small checks sold over the counter 1-10 premium is charged.

GOVERNMENT BONDS have continued on their downward course, and show a decline in all classes ranging from ⅛@¼c. The following are the closing quotations:

GOLD—Has confined its fluctuations to a range of ¾ per cent. to-day, and has been inclined to advance. It opened at 139, and, after reaching 139¾, dropped to 138¾, but closed at 139¼.

We quote the buying and selling rates as follows:

	Buying.	Selling.
Gold	138½	139½
Silver halves and quarters	131
Silver dimes	129

LOCAL BONDS AND STOCKS—Are stagnant, and we can report not one transaction. All parties seem to be so well satisfied with their present investments that they see no cause to change. It is very probable that there will be a lull until after the first of July, when there are usually a good many changes made in investments.

Review of the Market.

ALCOHOL—The market is steady, with light sales at $2 05.

APPLES—Prices have advanced during the week, and prime to choice qualities are selling at from $8 to $11; common to fair apples are selling from $5 to $6 per bbl.

ALE AND BEER—Aside from the usual demand the market is presenting no new features. Prices are steady. Madison ale at $12 per bbl and $4 50 per half bbl; in bottles $1 40 per dozen, with discounts to the trade. Lager beer is held at $12@13 per bbl.

BAGGING AND ROPE—The market is showing increasing activity, with sales of importance to dealers. Stocks are ample. We quote 2-lb Kentucky bagging at 21¼@22c; 1¾-lb Kentucky bagging at 18@19c; flax bagging at 21@22c; machine rope at 7½@8½c. Some bagging rated 2-lb weighs a fraction less and some a fraction more than 2 lbs, which accounts in part for the wide range in our quotations.

BATTING—Prices are firm with a fair demand, and the market is well supplied. Sales of No. 1 Cannelton batting at 30@31c; Maysville No. 1 batting at 27@28c; Maysville tissue at 30@31c.

BROOMS—Stocks are nearer equal to the demand than for several weeks and prices are steady. A prime article of Shaker brooms is held at $4, while common to No. 1 are selling at $4 50@5 50 per dozen.

BROOM CORN—Would command from $300@350 per ton, but we have no sales to report.

Louisville Provision Market.

The market opened firm to-day, and, under the influence of favorable advices, exhibited considerable excitement at a late hour, and an advance was established in mess pork and bacon, the market closing strong. Owing to the light stocks in the markets of the country, dealers generally are very decided in their opinions that prices will go still higher and be firmly maintained during the remainder of the season. There are those, however, who regard the present advance as spasmodic, and think that a reaction is likely to occur. There is in this disagreement nothing unusual. It has been a feature of the business during the entire season, and has been productive of an irregularity in quotations exceedingly difficult to reconcile. In addition to this, there are other causes of irregularity. One class of merchants sell for cash only, and are fully of the opinion that quotations should be the cash prices. Others are willing to give time, and as they take risks, charge more, and it is desired that this incident of the trade be represented in the quotations. Again, there are those who sell only in round lots to the trade, and here comes still another difficulty. But there is yet another cause of disagreement, arising from the fact that not unfrequently forced sales are reported at figures which do not represent legitimate trade, and to publish which would prove detrimental. Actual sales do not, therefore, always represent the condition of the market, and hence transactions are frequently made and prices not given.
